ABOUT THE A's

ABOUT THE A'S: Have started the season 9-4, which is the A's best record after 13 games since 1992 when they also went 9-4 (won game 14 in 1992)...are five games over .500 for the first time since July 19, 2008 (51-46)...have not been six over since July 18, 2008 (51-45)...have a season high 2½ game lead in the American League West, the A's largest margin in the West since finishing the 2006 season with a four-game lead...have spent each of the last 11 days with at least a share of first (10 days all alone in first), their longest streak of consecutive days in first since 2006 when they spent the final 65 days of the season in first...had no days in first from May 13, 2008 through the end of the 2009 season...have been over .500 every day since the third game of the season...spent just one day over .500 last year (2-1, April 8)...have won each of the last three games, which is one short of the season high winning streak of four (April 6-9)...had just two winning streaks of four or more games last year (had two seven-game winning streaks from June 2 to 8 and September 14 to 20)...went 75-87 last year, their third consecutive season with a losing record...it marks the first time the A's have finished with a losing record in three straight seasons since 1993-98 when they had six straight...this is the A's 43rd season in Oakland where they have won 14 American League West titles, one AL Wild Card, six AL pennants and four World Championships...only Atlanta (16) and the Yankees (16) have more division titles than the A's...since the A's moved to Oakland in 1968, only the Yankees have more league (11) and world (7) championships.

CLOSE CALLS: The A's had their third walk-off win of the season yesterday...tallied just five in all of 2009...it was the sixth A's game this year decided in the last at bat and the A's are 3-3 in those contests...in the majors, only Cincinnati (5) has more last at bat wins...seven of the A's 13 games have been decided in the seventh inning or later and the A's are 4-3 in those games...have scored 25 of their 59 runs after the sixth inning (42.4%)...the A's are also 4-3 in games decided by two runs or less, including 3-1 in one-run games...only Pittsburgh has more one-run wins (4).

AT HOME: The A's are 3-0 on the longest homestand of the season, a 10-game affair against Baltimore (3-0), New York and Cleveland...are 6-1 at home for the season, which is the best mark in the majors...lost the home opener, but have won six straight since then, matching the longest home winning streak from last season (September 5-20)...have not had a home winning streak longer than six games since August 11-September 1, 2006 when they won 10 straight...went 40-41 at home last year, marking the second time in three years the A's finished with a losing record at home.

PITCHING: A's starting pitchers are 6-0 with a 2.30 ERA (20 er in 78.1 ip)...the last time A's starting pitchers won their first six decisions was in 2003...the only time in Oakland history A's starters won more than their first six decisions was in 1981 when they began the season 10-0...the A's starting rotation is the only one in the majors without a loss...starters rank second in the majors in ERA to St. Louis (2.10) and the pitching staff as a whole has a 2.58 ERA, which is also second lowest to the Cardinals (2.48)...the A's have allowed five runs or less in each of the first 13 games, which is the third longest such streak to start a season in Oakland history...began the 1981 season with a 21-game streak and the 1978 season with a 16-game streak...the pitching staff also ranks second in the majors in strikeouts (97) and fourth in opponents batting (.230).

OFFENSE: The A's scored four runs yesterday and won...are 8-0 when scoring four or more runs and 1-4 when scoring less than four...have 59 runs for the season, which is third most in the American League...are tied for third in the AL in stolen bases (11) and doubles (27)...are batting .215 (54 for 251) over the last eight games after hitting .296 over the first five games.

DEFENSIVE DOINGS: The A's have committed at least one error in seven of the 13 games and rank second in the American League with 11 errors overall...are 5-1 when going errorless and 4-3 when making one or more errors.

14 STRAIGHT TO START THE SEASON: The A's begin the season with 14 consecutive days without a day off, the longest such streak in the majors this year...the last time the A's opened the season with a streak of at least 14 consecutive days with a game was in 1991 when they began the season with 16 consecutive days without a day off...the A's get their first day off tomorrow and will have four days off over a 22-day stretch from April 19 to May 10.

THE DISABLED LIST: The A's begin the season with six players on the disabled list (Cahill, Crisp, Devine, Meloan, Outman, Wuertz), their most to start a season since 1998 when they also had six...Devine and Outman are recovering from "Tommy John" surgery in 2009, Meloan underwent "Tommy John" surgery March 30, Wuertz was placed on the DL retroactive to March 26 with right shoulder tendinitis, Crisp was added April 3 with a fractured left pinky finger and Cahill was placed on the DL effective April 4 with a left scapula stress reaction...the A's used the DL 17 times last year and have now used the DL 70 times since the start of the 2007 season...have not had fewer than three players on the DL since the end of the 2006 season, when they had just one.

DURING THE SPRING: The A's finished the spring with a 12-17-3 (.422) record, their second consecutive spring with a losing record (went 17-18-2 last year)...the .422 winning percentage was the A's lowest during the spring since 1990 when they went 6-10 (.375)...the three tie games were the A's most since moving to Arizona in 1969.

ROSTER NOTES: The average age on the A's Opening Day roster is 27.16 years, which is the youngest average age since A's Opening Day Rosters are first available in 1992...according to Stats, Inc., it's the youngest Opening Day roster in the majors this year...Brett Anderson is the youngest at 22 years, 63 days and Mark Ellis is the oldest at 32 years, 303 days...opened the season with one rookie on the roster, Tyson Ross.

CHANGING THE CHANNEL: Due to Sharks playoffs, the A's game on April 20 will move to CSNCA Plus...the channel's are: Comcast (410), DirecTV (699), AT&T U-verse (768) and Dish Network (473).

A's vs. ORIOLES

The A's have won the first three meetings of 2010 and have now won each of their last five series against Baltimore...three of those have been sweeps...this is the third four-game series between the A's and Orioles over the last seven years and Oakland has swept the previous two, most recently August 26-29, 2005...have now won 13 of their last 14 games against the Orioles, including nine straight in the Coliseum...that is the A's second longest Coliseum winning streak against the Orioles...the longest is a 10-game streak from July 11, 2003 to August 26, 2004...the A's won the season series last year, 5-1...swept a three-game series in Oakland and won two of three at Baltimore...have not lost the season series to Baltimore since 1998 and are 68-28 (.708) against the Orioles since the start of the 1999 season...that is the best winning percentage against Baltimore by any American League team over that span...since moving to Oakland in 1968, the A's are 235-234 against the Orioles...that breaks down to 117-123 in Oakland and 118-111 in Baltimore...all-time, the A's are 971-914 against the Orioles/Browns/Brewers...of the other seven original AL franchises, the Orioles are the only team the A's have a winning record against.

TODAY'S TIDBITS

Ryan Sweeney had his first career walk-off hit yesterday and has hit safely in each of his 12 games...the hitting streak is tied for the longest in the majors this year and tied for the fourth longest season-opening streak in Oakland history.

THIS DATE IN A's HISTORY

In 1970 Don Mincher homers twice and drives in all five Oakland runs, but the A's lose 11-5 to Minnesota...in 1981 Brian Kingman tosses a six-hit shutout in the A's 8-0 win over Seattle as the A's improve to 10-0...in 2003 Barry Zito tosses a six-hit shutout to defeat Texas, 9-0.

TWO STARTS, NO RUNS: Has not allowed a run in either of his first two starts (12.0)...he is the first starting pitcher in Oakland history, among pitchers who began the season with the A's, to start the season with two consecutive scoreless outings...Vin Mazzaro (2009) and Ron Darling (1991) did not allow a run in their first two starts in their respective seasons, but they did not start the year with the A's...the last A's pitcher to do it was Alex Kellner of the 1953 Philadelphia A's, who started the season with back-to-back complete game shutouts and a 21.0 inning scoreless streak...Anderson's 12.0 inning scoreless streak is the third longest season-opening streak by a starter in Oakland history, 4.0 inning shy of the record set by Matt Keough in 1980...the Oakland record by any pitcher to start a season is 18.1 innings by Jim Corsi in 1995.

OAKLAND A'S LONGEST SEASON OPENING SCORELESS STREAK BY A STARTER (players on Opening Day roster)

16.0	Matt Keough, April 11-16, 1980
15.0	Catfish Hunter, April 11-15, 1969
12.0	Brett Anderson, April 8, 2010-present
10.0	Rich Harden, April 4-9, 2007
10.0	Steve Karsay, April 9-14, 1994
10.0	Steve McCatty, April 12-17, 1981
10.0	John Henry Johnson, April 10-16, 1978

FIRST 13, LAST 19: Was 3-7 with a 5.74 ERA, .304 opponents batting average and 13 home runs allowed over the first 13 starts of his career through June 20 of last year...is 9-4 with a 2.66 ERA (35 er in 118.1 ip), .234 (103 for 440) opponents batting average and seven home runs in his 19 starts since June 29, 2009...had a 2.96 ERA from June 29 through the end of the 2009 season, which was fourth best in the AL behind Lester (2.35), Greinke (2.37) and Hernandez (2.44).

LONG-TERM CONTRACT: Agreed to terms on a four-year contract through 2013 with club options for 2014 and 2015 on Friday...the deal avoids future arbitration and as well as his first possible season of free agency (2015).

FIRST WILD PITCH: Was charged with the first wild pitch of his career in the sixth inning last Tuesday at Seattle, snapping a career-opening streak of 31 starts and 186.1 innings without a wild pitch...the streak of 31 consecutive starts without a wild pitch was sixth longest in Oakland history by a starter...it was the longest since Barry Zito had a streak of 38 starts from July 2, 2002 to July 13, 2003...did not have a wild pitch last year and his 175.1 innings were the most in the majors among pitchers with no wild pitches...they were third most in Oakland history behind Catfish Hunter (234.0 ip in 1968) and Steve McCatty (185.2 ip in 1981).

FIRST START: He was the winning pitcher in the A's 6-2 win over Seattle April 8 in Oakland...tossed 6.0 shutout innings, scattering three hits and a walk...retired 10 consecutive batters before allowing a Figgins single and a Gutierrez walk to start the seventh inning...was relieved by Chad Gaudin who retired the next three batters...the bullpen allowed two runs in the ninth.

LAST START: He did not allow a run for the second consecutive start but had a no decision in the A's 3-0 loss at Seattle last Tuesday...tossed 6.0 innings and allowed six hits and two walks...the Mariners were 0 for 6 with four strikeouts with runners in scoring position off him as he stranded nine base runners in his six innings.

ANDERSON vs. BALTIMORE: Is making his first career appearance and start.

THIS SPRING: Was 0-1 with a 4.42 ERA (18.1 ip, 18 h, 9 r, 9 er, 6 bb, 16 so, 2 hr) in five games, all starts...allowed a .254 (18 for 79) opponents batting average...did not allow a run in three of his five starts...also pitched in a simulated game against minor leaguers March 23.

2009 RECAP: Was one of two 21-year olds to spend the season in the A's starting rotation...set an Oakland rookie record with 150 strikeouts...led the A's pitching staff in strikeouts and wins (11) and finished second in starts (30)...compiled an 11-11 record and 4.06 ERA...led all Major League rookies in strikeouts...tied for third among American League rookies in games started, ranked fourth in innings pitched (175.1) and tied for fourth in wins...had one of five shutouts by an AL rookie and one of 11 complete games...his strikeouts broke the previous Oakland rookie record of 141 set by Rick Langford in 1977...fell one short of the Oakland rookie record of 12 wins set by Chris Codiroli in 1983 and matched by Joe Blanton in 2005...became the eighth Oakland rookie to make 30 or more starts...is one of four 21-year olds in Oakland history to win 10 or more games and his 30 starts tied for fifth most in Athletics history by a pitcher under the age of 22...fellow 21-year old Trevor Cahill had 10 wins in 32 starts, making the A's the 13th team since 1900 to have two pitchers under the age of 22 win 10 or more games (last: Kansas City, 1984, with Mark Gubicza and Bret Saberhagen) and the fourth with 30 or more starts (last: Chicago-AL, 1980).

AMONG THE LEADERS: Was charged with 15 unearned runs, which tied for the most in the AL (Hernandez, SEA)...also ranked tied for fifth in grounded into double plays (24), tied for seventh in shutouts (1) and pickoffs (4), eighth in walks per nine innings (2.31) and strikeout to walk ratio (3.33), and 10th in strikeouts per nine innings (7.70)...received run support of one run or less in 12 of his 30 starts and his season run support of 4.62 was eighth lowest in the AL...was 11-2 in 18 starts with run support of two more.

OPPONENTS BATTING: Allowed a .265 opponents batting average, which included a .247 (123 for 497) mark against right-handed hitters and .313 (57 for 182) against left-handers...yielded a .314 average with runners in scoring position, which was fifth highest in the AL...however, that marked dropped to .239 from June 29 through the end of the season...opponents were 7 for 13 (.538) with a grand slam and 15 RBI with the bases loaded.

THIS AND THAT: Compiled a 7-4 record and 3.14 ERA in 17 starts on five or more days rest and was 4-7 with a 5.19 ERA in 13 starts on four days rest...was 5-3 with a 3.27 ERA in 11 starts during the day and 6-8 with a 4.53 ERA in 19 starts at night...did not commit an error in 29 total chances, all assists...since 1954, the only other pitchers to make at least 30 starts in a season without recording a putout are Randy Johnson (SEA, 1991) and Bob Veale (PIT, 1970)...tied for the lead among AL pitchers in double plays (5) and tied for fourth in assists...was ranked number 7 on Baseball America's Top 100 Prospects lists entering the season.

- Had his first career "walk-off" hit yesterday, a two-run single...that brings his season RBI total to nine, which is tied for 10th in the American League.
- Has hit safely in each of his 12 games this year (15 for 47, .319), which is tied for the fourth longest season-opening hitting streak in Oakland history...it is also tied for the longest hitting streak in the majors this year (Cantu, FLA)...it is his fourth career hitting streak of 10 or more games and is one short of his career high of 13 from May 19 to June 19, 2008.
- Went 4 for 12 (.333) with three doubles and four runs scored in three games against Baltimore last year and is a .313 (10 for 32) career hitter against the Orioles with eight RBI in 11 games.
- Hit .313 with a team-leading 20 hits in 21 games this spring.
- Batted a team-leading .293 with 53 RBI in 134 games in his second full season last year...the batting average was fifth best in Oakland history by a player younger than 25 years of age...led the A's in batting and finished second in doubles (31) but had just six home runs.

FOR STARTERS: Is scheduled to make his fourth start of the season...the A's are 1-2 in his starting assignments and his teams are 110-114 (.491) in his 224 career starts...the Brewers were 18-13 (.581) in his 31 starting assignments in 2008...tossed seven or more innings 11 times in 2008, allowed two runs or fewer 15 times and walked two batters or fewer 26 times.

ALL STARTS: Has made 224 career appearances and all have been starts...those are the fourth most appearances in major league history among pitchers who have never made a relief appearance.

FIRST START: He had a no decision in the A's 5-3 loss to Seattle on Opening Night April 5 in Oakland...it was his first start since September 27, 2008 against the Chicago Cubs when he was the losing pitcher in the Brewers 7-3 loss (2.1 ip, 5 h, 4 r, 3 er, 2 bb, 1 so, 1 hr)...became the A's fifth different Opening Day starter in the last five years (Braden, Blanton, Haren, Zito)...it was his seventh career Opening Day start and he is 3-0 with a 2.59 ERA (12 er in 41.2 ip) in those seven starts...among active pitchers, only Buehrle (CWS), Halladay (PHI), Hernandez (WASH minors) and Oswalt (HOU), with eight each, have more...allowed one run in each of the first three innings, including a Kutchman RBI double in the first, a Johnson home run in the second and a Kutchman sacrifice fly in the third...left trailing 3-0 but the A's scored once in the sixth and twice in the seventh to get him off the hook.

SECOND START: He had his second consecutive no decision in an A's loss, a 4-3 loss at Los Angeles April 10...allowed a RBI double to Matsui in the third but the A's scored a run in the top of the fourth to tie the game...he then allowed two in the bottom of the fourth on a Kendrick RBI double and an Aybar RBI single...left after six innings trailing 3-1 but the A's scored single runs in the seventh and eighth to get him off the hook.

LAST START: He picked up his first win since September 6, 2008 in the A's 6-2 win over Baltimore last Thursday...tossed 6.0 shutout innings despite allowing five hits and walking three...stranded eight base runners and left runners in scoring position in four of his six innings...left with a 5-0 lead and the bullpen allowed single runs in the seventh and ninth innings.

SHEETS vs. NEW YORK: Was the winning pitcher in his only career start, a 2-1 Brewers win in Milwaukee on June 7, 2005...tossed 7.0 innings and walked five but allowed just two hits on back-to-back singles by Jeter and Womack in the third inning.

THIS SPRING: Was 1-3 with an 11.20 ERA (13.2 ip, 23 h, 20 r, 17 er, 10 bb, 10 so, 1 hr) in five games, all starts...allowed a .354 (23 for 65) opponents batting average...struck out nine batters in his last two starts (9.1 ip) after fanning just one over his first three (4.1 ip)...did not retire a batter in his third start March 15 at Cincinnati as he faced 10 batters in the first inning with all 10 scoring...allowed six runs in the White Sox seven-run third inning in his second start, March 10...also pitched in a minor league game March 25.

2009 RECAP: Became a free agent following the 2008 season with Milwaukee but did not sign with another team...missed the entire 2009 season after undergoing surgery on his right elbow in February.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS: The four-time National League All-Star signed a one-year contract with the A's after missing the entire 2009 season after undergoing elbow surgery...spent the first eight years of his career with Milwaukee and is the Brewers all-time leader in strikeouts (1206)...also ranks fifth in wins (86) and sixth in ERA (3.72)...his 1206 strikeouts from 2001-08 were fourth most in the NL over that span and his 18 complete games tied for second most...started for the NL in the 2008 All-Star Game...was also an All-Star in 2001, 2004 and 2007...set a Milwaukee franchise record with 264 strikeouts in 2004, including a franchise-record 18 strikeouts in a 4-1 win, May 16 at Atlanta...was a member of the 2000 United States Olympic team and tossed a three-hit shutout against Cuba to earn the Gold Medal for Team USA.

2008 RECAP: Went 13-9 with a 3.09 ERA in 31 starts...the Brewers were 18-13 in his starts...his 13 wins led the team and marked the most of his career...ranked among the National League leaders in shutouts (1-1st, 3), complete games (2nd, 5) and ERA (5th, 3.09)...was selected to his fourth All-Star Game...became the first pitcher in Brewers history to start the game, which was played at Yankee Stadium (2.0 ip, 1 h, 2 bb, 3 so)...was named Milwaukee Pitcher of the Month for April (4-0, 1.64 ERA) and May (2-1, 3.53 ERA)...began the year with 15.1 consecutive scoreless innings, the sixth-longest streak to start a season in team history...made his sixth Opening Day start March 31 at Chicago (NL) and received a no decision in the Brewers 4-3, 10-inning win (6.1 ip, 2 h, 2 bb, 7 so)...his first victory of the year was a five-hit shutout in a 7-0 win, April 6 at San Francisco (0 bb, 8 so)...tossed another five-hit shutout in a 6-0 win, Aug. 9 against Washington (0 bb, 6 so)...fired his third five-hit shutout in a 1-0 win against San Diego, Sept. 6 (1 bb, 7 so)...it was the first 1-0 shutout by a Brewer since Jaime Navarro did it against Boston, Aug. 16, 1992...retired 18 consecutive batters from the second through eighth innings, April 12 at New York (NL)...it marked the fifth straight season he had starts in which he retired 18 in a row...recorded a career high seven walks in 5.0 innings April 29 at Chicago (NL) but still posted a 10-7 win...struck out Albert Pujols May 10 against St. Louis for career strikeout number 1082...that broke the previous Milwaukee career record of 1081 by Teddy Higuera...in a 4-1 win May 21 at Pittsburgh, he became the third pitcher in franchise history to throw a complete game in which he allowed one run or less and 11 hits or more...joined Marty Pattin (1971) and Bill Wegman (1992)...retired the last 16 batters in a 4-1, complete game victory at Atlanta, June 23...tossed 20.0 consecutive scoreless innings from Aug. 26 to Sept. 6...left three starts early due to injuries: April 18 at Cincinnati (5.0 ip, tightness in right triceps muscle), Sept. 1 vs. New York (NL) (5.0 ip, tightness in left groin) and Sept. 17 at Chicago (NL) (2.0 ip, tightness in right forearm).

FOR STARTERS: Is scheduled to make his fourth start of the season...the A's have won each of his three starting assignments this year and are 23-26 (.469) in his 49 career starts...has tossed two or more innings in two of his first three starts this year, allowed two runs or fewer twice and walked one batter each time.

THREE-GAME WINNING STREAK: Has won each of his first two decisions of 2010 and also won his last decision of 2009, giving him a three-game winning streak for the first time in his career...is 3-0 with a 3.71 ERA (11 er in 26.2 ip) and .206 (20 for 97) opponents batting average over that four start stretch.

OPPONENTS BATTING: Has allowed a .174 opponents batting average, including .235 against left-handed hitters and .154 against right-handers...last year, he allowed a .203 mark against lefties and .290 against righties...opponents are 1 for 8 (.125) with runners in scoring position...entered the season with a .315 career average with RISP...opponents are 2 for 20 (.100) when leading off an inning.

COMPLETE GAMES: Has made 49 starts in his career and has yet to toss a complete game...that is the second longest streak of consecutive starts without a complete game to start a career in Oakland history...the record is 51 by Todd Van Poppel from Sept. 11, 1991-Sept. 12, 1995...it is tied for the fifth longest streak at any point in Oakland history...has tossed fewer than eight innings in all 49 of his starts, which is the longest streak of consecutive starts of fewer than eight innings in Oakland history.

STOLEN BASES: Recorded his first pickoff of the season and the 10th of his career in his first start...did not allow a stolen base last year and his 136.2 innings pitched were the most in the majors among pitchers who did not allow a steal...has not allowed a stolen base since Aug. 20, 2008 against Minnesota (Punto)...opponents have been successful in just 3 of 8 (37.5%) career stolen base attempts...was named as having the third best pickoff move in the AL in Baseball America's best tools survey.

RUN SUPPORT: Received one run of support in his first start this year...last year, he received run support of one run or less in 10 of his 22 starts...his season run support of 3.95 was fifth lowest among AL pitchers with 100 or more innings...was 1-8 in his 10 starts with run support of one run or less and 7-1 in his other 12 starts...is now 1-17 in 23 career starts with zero or one run of support and 14-4 in 26 starts with run support of two or more...has career run support of 3.70 (114 rs in 277.1 ip) as a starter...has received 19 runs of support in his 21 career losses (108.2 ip, 1.57 RSA).

FIRST START: He struck out a career high 10 in 7.0 innings but had a no decision in the A's 2-1, 10-inning win over Seattle April 6...allowed his only run in the fourth inning when Gutierrez doubled with one out, advance to third on a balk and scored on a wild pitch...scattered four hits in his seven innings but Mariners starter Ian Snell held the A's to a run on four hits in 6.0 innings.

SECOND START: He picked up his first win of the season in the A's 9-4 win at Los Angeles April 11...allowed two runs in the first inning on a solo home run by Abreu and a RBI single by Morales but retired the side in order from the second through the fifth inning...set down 13 straight...allowed a sacrifice fly to Hunter in the sixth to give the Angels a 3-1 lead but the A's scored three times in the seventh for the win.

LAST START: He won his second consecutive start in the A's 4-2 win over Baltimore last Friday...retired each of the first 10 batters he faced before Markakis doubled with one out in the fourth...had a 4-0 lead when he allowed his only runs of the game on a two-run home run by Wigginton in the fifth...tossed 7.0 innings and allowed just three hits and one walk.

BRADEN vs. NEW YORK: Is 0-1 with a 7.71 ERA (9.1 ip, 14 h, 8 r, 8 er, 7 bb, 4 so, 1 hr) in four career appearances, one start...all four appearances have come in New York...the start came in his only appearance last year, a loss in the A's 7-5 decision on July 26...allowed a career high six walks and a career high tying 10 hits...yielded four runs in the first inning after yielding just two first inning runs over his first 20 starts...Matsui had a RBI single and Cano had a three-run double...the A's came back to take a 5-4 lead but he allowed three runs in the sixth inning on a two-run single by Jeter and a Teixeira RBI double and took the loss.

THIS SPRING: Was 0-1 with a 5.95 ERA (21.1 ip, 30 h, 15 r, 14 er, 4 bb, 12 so, 5 hr) in five games, all starts...allowed a .333 opponents batting average (30 for 90)...posted a 3.94 ERA over his first four starts but then allowed seven runs on 12 hits in 5.1 innings in his final start last Wednesday...also faced A's minor leaguers March 16, a scheduled off day.

2009 RECAP: Was the A's Opening Day starter and went 8-9 with a 3.89 ERA in 22 starts before a rash led to nerve damage in his left foot, ending his season in August...his wins, ERA, opponents batting average (.268), starts, innings pitched (136.2) and strikeouts (81) were the best of his three seasons in the majors...allowed just nine home runs in 136.2 innings, an average of 0.59 per nine innings...that was the fourth lowest mark in the American League among pitchers with 100 or more innings pitched...was 7-7 with a 3.12 ERA and .255 opponents batting average in 18 starts before the All-Star Break and had the seventh lowest ERA in the AL...then went 1-2 with a 7.40 ERA and .324 opponents batting average in four starts after the break before he was placed on the 15-day disabled list Aug. 8 retroactive to Aug. 1 with a rash on his left foot...the rash led to nerve damage and he was transferred to the 60-day DL Sept. 11...had a roller coaster season with his ERA as he posted a 2.10 ERA in April, 4.86 in May, 2.51 in June and 5.54 in July.

THIS AND THAT: Compiled a 3.18 ERA in nine starts during the day last year compared to 4.39 in 13 starts at night...went 6-4 in 12 starts in Oakland and 2-5 in 10 starts on the road...his career numbers entering the season were 1-7 at home and 5-5 on the road...went 0-2 in three interleague starts despite a 2.95 ERA and .211 opponents batting average...committed three errors, which led the A's pitching staff and tied for fifth in the AL.

By Joe Stiglich, Oakland Tribune, 2/26/2010

Call Brett Anderson superstitious or ritualistic or a plain old creature of habit. Whatever the label, the A's left-hander won't dispute he's one of the major leagues' quirkiest characters.

Consider the pattern of behavior that marks every Anderson outing. He tosses the ball in his left hand a certain number of times before every pitch. While sitting in the dugout between innings, he drinks water from the same part of the cup with every sip, then makes sure the cup is placed in its proper spot next to him.

When Anderson leaves the clubhouse before a start, the label on the lip balm in his locker has to be facing out. He recently found out that Blistex stopped making the brand he likes, but that's a problem for another day.

"I've been doing this ever since high school," Anderson said. "It's evolved to different things. One thing I think will work, but one thing will go by the wayside. It's been ever-changing. But it's been ever since I started pitching competitively."

Then he smiles, clearly in tune with how amusing it all sounds.

"I'm a weird guy."

But baseball is a game marked by habitual behavior.

Many players avoid touching the baseline as they come on and off the field. Nomar Garciaparra, a teammate of Anderson's last season, rapidly readjusts his batting gloves after every pitch.

Anderson's teammates respect his idiosyncrasies but also find the humor in them.

"Sometimes it takes him a while in between innings to get out there," right-hander Trevor Cahill said. "I think he's got to realize he's making the umpires mad. I'll be sitting next to him on the bench, and I always think they're looking at me. They're trying to get his attention to get out there. But I don't want to interrupt his routine."

Whatever works.

Anderson, who turned 22 this month, led major league rookies last season with 150 strikeouts, an Oakland rookie record. He threw a two-hit shutout in his first start at Fenway Park and took a perfect game into the seventh inning against the Los Angeles Angels.

He said he strayed from his game-day routine for one start last season and promptly gave up seven runs in five innings against the Chicago White Sox. Anderson went back to it for his next outing and threw seven solid innings against the New York Yankees.

"Obviously you've gotta go with what's working," he said.

The apple didn't fall far from the tree in the Anderson family.

Brett's father, Frank, says he had his own habits as a player.

Frank Anderson, the Oklahoma State baseball coach, recalls attending a basketball camp in high school and listening to legendary coach Al McGuire talk about the importance of finding a routine at the free-throw line.

Frank applied the same philosophy to baseball.

"I wanted to get in the batter's box the same way every time," he said. "You don't worry about the crowd, you focus on (yourself)."

The elder Anderson stopped short of calling Brett's behavior superstitious.

"In baseball, you have to repeat an action so many times," Frank Anderson said. "The more times you can do it, the ball is going to come off your hand right, or come off the bat right. We're creatures of habit."

Baseball kind of lends itself to that.”

But even he concedes his son’s behavior might be a little out there.

“He is left-handed, I’ll give you that.”

Braden becomes both student and teacher

A's lefty moonlights as pitching mentor for college team
 By Jane Lee / MLB.com / 02-22-2010

PHOENIX -- When it came time for Ed Sprague to decide on a rotation for his team's season-opening series this weekend, the University of Pacific baseball coach called up a good friend for some advice.

Dallas Braden happened to be on the other end of that phone conversation. Sprague listened carefully to a pal 16 years his junior.

"I asked him who he likes of our guys, and we were pretty much on the same page," Sprague said. "We were pretty close, and I ended up going with the guys he chose."

Turns out the kid knows his stuff, as the Tigers enjoyed a 2-1 weekend against the University of San Francisco in their first regular-season games since being under the tutorage of Braden, who still makes his home in the university's location of Stockton, Calif.

Both Braden and Sprague went to high school in Stockton. Both have played for the A's -- Sprague in 1998 during a 11-year professional career. Yet neither knew of the other until 2006 when Braden asked Sprague if he could practice on the university's fields during the offseason.

In four short years, the 26-year-old A's left-hander has since transformed from an average Minor League pitcher bouncing back and forth from the bullpen to the rotation into a bona fide big league starter. Oh, and don't forget the college interim pitching coach stint on his resume, which Sprague proudly endorses.

"It seems like just yesterday he started asking if he could come out and play catch at our field," the Tigers coach said. "Ever since, he's come out every offseason to work out. This year he came out more, and our guys started watching him play catch and asking him questions."

"He ended up staying three or four hours and would watch them in the bullpen. It was great."

For Braden, making friends comes as easily as throwing strikes thanks to a contagiously inviting and witty personality, so before long, the A's pitcher was welcoming the college players into his home.

"I took some guys under my wing and had them come over to the house," he said. "They were asking me how to prepare, and I have DVDs in my office of all the games I've thrown, so I showed them and talked about approach. It was fun because I feel like the more you talk about that stuff the more you can actually learn."

Braden can only hope he can act out his own lessons this year as he returns from a season in which he was shut down after only 22 starts. His bizarre injuries coincidentally match his quirky personality -- for no rhyme or reason, other than maybe to allow the baseball gods to hear Braden interactively tell tales of his wacky body.

Take his deviated septum, for instance. Braden underwent a nasal endoscopy in December because of the resulting breathing and sleeping problems -- an operation that led to what he described as a "water-fall" of blood over his grandma's sink when he attempted to remove a cotton ball just days later.

"I was steadily flowing blood out of my face for the first few days," he said in a humorous nonchalant manner. "I can now breathe -- figuratively and literally."

On top of that, Braden still feels lingering effects from the nerve irritation that developed last year in his foot and has no feeling in two of his toes. The foot issues began midseason when his ankle suffered an allergic reaction to a neoprene brace he'd been wearing, which subsequently led to inflammation in the area where his foot meets his ankle.

"I don't know if it affects me," Braden said of the numb toes. "Sometimes I'll get a little too far on the back side of my foot and I'm not really sure how far I'm back there just because sensory isn't there."

There's no motor sensory damage, which means my muscles are firing and I can feel that, which is awesome. But just to touch it, there's not much going on there.

"They said it could take six months, six years, or it could never come back. We just don't know."

Braden does know, though, that he's "right where I need to be" on the Spring Training schedule.

"I've thrown some bullpens and have no limitations really," said the southpaw, who is scheduled to throw a bullpen session Monday. "I'm running and doing everything that's required of a guy in camp."

"I was ready for this Aug. 5, which was about two days after I realized I wasn't going to pitch again. I even called [pitching coach] Curt Young and told him after the first day I threw a baseball I almost cried because I was just so excited that I could actually throw a baseball and I was ready to go. I started playing catch in late November or early December because I wanted that feeling. I wanted to know I was still a baseball player."

No matter where Braden's health leads him this year or the next, Sprague believes the A's pitcher will be a mainstay in the game thanks to a maturity the coach has watched progress during Braden's time in Stockton.

"I think he's definitely got a gift for coaching," Sprague said. "He did a very good job of relaying stuff on the coaching level. I definitely think he'll have a long career in baseball, especially after he's done playing."

For now, though, Braden hopes to stay busy on the mound in an effort to turn some of the Giants fans present on Pacific's baseball team into followers of the green and gold.

"I don't know if we've converted all of them," said Sprague, "but we've certainly turned them all into Dallas Braden fans."

Thinking Man's Game

Courtesy of New England Baseball Journal 3/4/2010
 Story by Douglas Flynn

The Wall Street Journal once labeled him “the smartest man in baseball, if not the entire world,” and the presence of a degree in molecular biophysics and biochemistry from Yale University would appear to support the claim.

Craig Breslow chuckles at the moniker that has stuck with him through eight seasons of professional baseball. But the Trumbull, Conn., native certainly was smart enough to realize his future on the diamond was in serious question when the Milwaukee Brewers, who had picked him in the 26th round of the 2002 draft, unceremoniously released him two years later during the 2004 season.

“When you’re released as a 23-year-old after being a 26th-round draft pick, you’d have to be pretty foolish if you didn’t have some serious doubts [about making it],” Breslow said. “I was really close to giving up on baseball. I felt like toiling in the minors for years when I had this great educational background wouldn’t have made much sense.”

For once, Breslow went with his heart instead of his brain. Rather than returning to school to pursue the medical degree that always has been his goal, Breslow gave baseball one more shot. He hooked on with the New Jersey Jackals in the independent Northeast League for the rest of 2004, then was signed by San Diego out of a tryout camp the following year.

His major league debut came with the Padres on July 23, 2005, and while there’s been some more bumps along the way as he was non-tendered by San Diego and waived by three other teams, he enters the 2010 season having established himself as one of the top left-handed relievers in the majors.

“Going into this year, hopefully I have established a role for myself now,” Breslow, now 29, said. “I’ll never be complacent, but I think I’ve proven myself a bit now.”

Breslow had some success in his various stops. He had a 3.75 ERA and 12 strikeouts in 12 innings with the Red Sox in 2006 and a 1.91 ERA in 47 innings split between Cleveland and Minnesota in 2008. But it wasn’t until he was claimed off waivers by Oakland on May 20, 2009, that everything really came together for him.

Breslow finished the year second in the American League in appearances with 77, including 60 with the A’s. He went 7-5 in Oakland with a 2.60 ERA and 44 K’s against just 18 walks in 55¹/₈ innings. Long considered a lefty specialist, Breslow finally was given a chance to get hitters from both sides of the plate out, and actually had more success against righties (.191 opponents’ average) than lefties (.204) last year.

“I like to think I can do more than just get lefties out,” Breslow said. “I think if you look at my splits I’ve had pretty similar numbers against righties as I have against lefties.”

The A’s certainly are glad Breslow put off med school and stuck with baseball. So are a lot of people away from the diamond.

As much as he has contributed on the field, Breslow has proven even more valuable off it with his tireless charity work for pediatric cancer research and treatment. Breslow has a very personal reason for such efforts, as his older sister Lesley was diagnosed with pediatric thyroid cancer when she was 13 and Breslow was 11. Lesley Breslow has been in remission for over 15 years, but that harrowing experience was enough to make Breslow want to do everything in his power to prevent any other families from going through the same ordeal.

“That had a dramatic impact on my life,” Breslow said. “A couple of years ago, I was playing for the Red Sox at the time, and I felt it was as good a time as ever to do something.”

For many players, “doing something” would mean donating some money and maybe making a few appearances to raise more funds. That wasn’t enough for Breslow, who instead chose to launch his own organization, The Strike 3 Foundation (www.strike3foundation.org).

“The control freak I am, I knew I had to do my own thing and not just be a spokesman for an existing charity and show up at a few events,” Breslow said. “I like the autonomy of being able to allocate the revenue where I see fit. ... I think there’s some value in being more than just some athlete or celebrity lending their name to some cause.”

Breslow’s work, which includes an annual gala each November (this past year’s featured Nomar Garciaparra as a speaker and a performance by reggae star Shaggy, while NHL star and fellow Trumbull native Chris Drury of the New York Rangers has helped out at other events), already has raised $215,000 and distributed more than $160,000 in its first 2½ years despite the rough economic times.

“If you told me two years ago that the economy was going to be in its biggest downturn in 80 years, I probably would have said this isn’t a good time to be asking for charity dollars,” said Breslow, who spent nights during a past spring training filling out paperwork to register the foundation as a charity with the IRS.

While many charities raise money for support services for cancer patients and their families, Breslow’s focus strictly is on research and treatment.

“I figure if you eliminate the disease, you eliminate the need for counseling for family members and all of those type of support services,” Breslow explained. “If you have no cancer, then you don’t have to find a way to ever tell a kid that he has cancer. That’s my goal.”

Breslow may have an even more direct impact on cancer treatment in the future, as he hasn’t ruled out going back to med school after baseball. He just hopes that won’t be a decision he has to make for quite some time.

“It’s definitely something I think about,” Breslow said. “I’m enjoying what I’m doing now. I’d love to be doing this for another 12 years, so I don’t know where that would leave me, but I definitely think about it.”

In the meantime, he’ll have to satisfy his intellectual itch in other ways — such as settling bets for old teammates. One such occasion came in 2007, when he was called upon to solve a pressing issue in the Red Sox clubhouse. Somehow, Josh Beckett and Doug Mirabelli got caught up in a debate over how many times a ball thrown at 95 mph would make a full revolution between the mound and the plate. Naturally, the only person they knew who could solve the problem was Breslow.

“I was in Pawtucket and Josh left me an urgent message that I had to help him out,” Breslow recalled. “I think it ended up being about 12.4 [rotations]. I’m not sure who won the bet, but I did my part.”

Maybe solving that dilemma is why Breslow received a World Series ring in 2007 despite not facing a single batter with the big club. He was called up on Sept. 1 but sent back to Pawtucket the next day without having pitched in Boston.

He’s done a lot more in Oakland, but his reputation as an Ivy League science wiz still precedes him.

“Breslow knows everything,” A’s starter Dallas Braden told MLB.com last year. “I seriously want to be Craig Breslow when I grow up. He knows things most baseball players wouldn’t even try to think about. ... I’m not saying we’re all a bunch of rockheads, but if we were, he’d know how to build some kind of laser to break up the rocks and turn them into something way cooler.”

Thus, Breslow’s claim as baseball’s smartest man lives on, much to his amusement.

“I take my share of ribbing for it, players give me a hard time,” Breslow said. “But when I think about the nicknames that are out there, being called the world’s smartest man, I’ll gladly take that.

“I’m regarded as an expert no matter what the subject is,” Breslow added. “Even if I don’t know anything about it, whatever I say is treated like gospel, which is pretty amusing to me.”

2010 CLIPSChavez doesn't just swing bats, he makes them

Susan Slusser, Chronicle Staff Writer. 3/14/2010

Phoenix - -- Eric Chavez always takes a keen interest in bats. The A's infielder likes to design his own, choosing the wood, the handle, providing all the specifics. He enjoys watching the manufacturing process, too.

"I love it," he said. "It's the coolest thing."

Now, Chavez can head to his own bat company to see his bats produced. He is a primary investor in a venture called Diego Bats, after Chavez's oldest son, and it's the real deal: The company is churning out major-league certified bats used by Oakland's Mark Ellis and Kurt Suzuki, among others.

"It's good, because it's Eric's company, so I can always tell him what's going on - and I know since he's here, it's always going to be the best stuff," Suzuki said. "He sent me some this offseason, I tried them and I like them - the quality I'm looking for is there."

Chavez is working with a friend, Andy Goulder, who is managing the enterprise. Goulder is also involved with Diablo Bats, which is not major-league certified but produces lumber used in wood-bat leagues and by many junior college programs.

Jermaine Dye and Eric Munson - friends and former teammates of Chavez's - are also investors. They helped Diego Bats gain certification, an expensive process that includes $10,000 in fees and $10 million worth of liability insurance.

"It's not something I'm doing to make money," said Chavez, who is in the final year of a six-year, $66 million contract. "It's not a real moneymaker. But it's fun to have my son's name on a bat, and we'll see how it goes."

Chavez has found that his new sidelight comes with challenges, some of them less than appealing.

Just three days after the decision to call the company Diego Bats, someone purchased the domain name diegobats.com and has tried to get Chavez to pony up for the site.

Chavez, whose company can be found at diegobats.us, said he had no interest in buying the name, and the domain owner constructed what appears to be (but is not) a “Diego Bats” company site. The site features some scantily clad women and some comments that are in questionable taste.

“It’s pretty bad,” Chavez said. “But my lawyers have looked at it and said there’s nothing we can do about it.”

“I wish I knew who it was,” Goulder said. “It’s just not fair to Eric.”

Otherwise, the project is a blast, and the company is looking to expand its client base; it might have one in Arizona pitcher Dan Haren, another former A’s player, who said Friday in Tucson that he’s planning to order some bats from Chavez.

Ellis is providing some good free advertising. He’s 6-for-13 this spring, and he’s pounding out those hits with Diego Bats.

“That’s what I’m swinging,” he said with a grin. “They’re doing a good job.”

Chavez would take a close interest in bat trends, anyway, but now that it’s his business, he’s paying even more attention. When there were renewed calls to look at banning or restricting the use of maple bats in the major leagues again this week, Chavez decided he’d move back toward using ash bats - and he suggested that Diego Bats follow suit. (They presently craft yellow birch, maple and ash bats.)

“I told Andy to make sure there is a good amount of ash, because I don’t know what baseball is going to do,” Chavez said. “Maple bats are breaking like crazy.”

Chavez gets a kick out of designing his own bats “to a T,” he said, but the personal connection is what’s most important to him. His bat model is DDC - Diego, Dolce, Cruz, the names of his three children.

What does Diego, 4, think of having his name affixed to a bat company?

“He doesn’t really know,” Chavez said with a laugh. “He’s so spoiled, he doesn’t know the difference. But maybe one day he can look back and say, ‘That’s pretty cool.’”

SECOND BASEMAN

Height/Weight: 5-10 / 185 Bats/Throws: Right / Right
Birthdate: June 6, 1977 Opening Day Age: 32
Birthplace/Resides: Rapid City, South Dakota / Scottsdale, Arizona
Major League Service: 7 years, 136 days

Obtained: Acquired from Kansas City with Johnny Damon and cash as part of a three-team, seven-player deal, January 8, 2001. The A's traded Ben Grieve and cash to Tampa Bay and A.J. Hinch, Angel Berroa and cash to Kansas City. Tampa Bay traded Roberto Hernandez to Kansas City and Cory Lidle to Oakland.

Contract Status: Second year of a two-year contract through 2010 with a club option for 2011.

2010 HIGHLIGHTS

- Made his sixth consecutive Opening Day start at second base April 5 against Seattle, his seventh in the last eight years...the seven starts are an Oakland record for a second baseman, topping the previous best of six by Dick Green...in Athletic history, only Dick Green (10) and Max Bishop (9) have more.
- Singled in the winning run in the bottom of the 10th inning April 6 against Seattle, his sixth career walk-off hit (three singles, three home runs).

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Completed his seventh season with the A's in 2009 and holds the Oakland record for games played (846) as a second baseman...is the Athletics franchise leader for home runs as a second baseman (78)...has led Major League second basemen in fielding twice in the last four years and has a .989 career fielding percentage, which is third best in ML history among second basemen with 750 or more games...has yet to win a Gold Glove...has 21 career triples, which is tied for ninth in Oakland history...hit the fifth walk-off grand slam in Oakland history June 8, 2008 against Los Angeles...set an Athletics franchise record for second basemen with a 102-game errorless streak from May 14 to Sept. 10, 2007...set what was then a Major League record for fielding percentage by a second baseman in 2006 with a mark of .997...hit a career high .316 in 2005 after missing the entire 2004 season with a torn labrum in his right shoulder...was named to the Topps Major League Rookie All-Star Team as the second baseman in 2002...was acquired by the A's from Kansas City prior to the 2001 season in the trade that also netted the A's Johnny Damon and Cory Lidle.

2009 HIGHLIGHTS

Batted .263 with 10 home runs and 61 RBI in 105 games in 2009...missed 55 games while on the disabled list from April 29 to June 27 with a strained left calf...the 105 games were his fewest since appearing in 98 games during his rookie season of 2002, but his 61 RBI were the second best total of his career...appeared in 105 games at second base and made five errors for a .990 fielding percentage...fell three games short of qualifying for the league leaders in fielding but he had the fourth best fielding percentage among American League second basemen with 100 or more games...now has a .98938 career fielding percentage, which is third best in Major League history among second basemen with 750 or more games played...batted .337 with runners in scoring position...hit .219 over his first 43 games through July 27, .344 over a 42-game stretch from July 28 to Sept. 12 and .182 over his final 20 games.

Ellis remains constant amid A's changes

Veteran second baseman embracing role as club leader
 By Jane Lee / MLB.com / 03-16-2010

PHOENIX -- Mark Ellis still sports the same boyish look he brought with him to the A's clubhouse upon his arrival in 2002.

It was that same year during which the 25-year-old kid, traded along with Johnny Damon from Kansas City a year before, made his Major League debut. It was also that same year former Oakland outfielder David Justice lent him a warning.

"My first week in the big leagues, he told me, 'One day you're going to look up and 12 years will have gone by,'" Ellis recalled. "It hasn't been 12, but it's been close, and it's all gone by so fast."

Also gone are plenty of teammates who have walked through Oakland's revolving door. Yet Ellis, aside from the often-injured Eric Chavez, has remained the team's lone steady presence through it all. An average career batting mark, a top-notch glove and decent power have made for quite the bargain for the A's, who are paying Ellis $5.5 million -- the most he's ever made -- this season.

He's been on first-place teams, last-place teams and every team in between. He's racked up the most games played by an Oakland second baseman (846) and has led the American League in fielding more than once.

However, you won't see Ellis' name on a Gold Glove Award. Perhaps it is East Coast bias and batting average theories that have left the A's second baseman in the dust every season. Anyone in the A's clubhouse will say he is one of the most underrated defensive players in the game, but they'll also say he's one of the most respected.

That, said A's bench coach Tye Waller, comes from Ellis' ability to be a student, teacher, teammate and friend all at once.

"Back when I came up," said Waller, "you were always being tutored by the leaders on the club. Now guys come and go every one or two years, but because Mark has been here so long and has had the success he's had with the A's, the others can look up to him as a guy who knows what it takes to be successful here. He has the respect of everyone on this club."

Said reverence comes with time. And Ellis knows he's put in that time. In fact, the A's veteran currently represents the team's oldest player at the ripe age of 32.

"When you think about it," said a smiling Chavez, "that doesn't just make him the oldest player here, but that makes him the oldest player in the organization.

"I don't want that title. I'm glad he has it."

Ellis wears the title well, though. And he can't help but laugh when thinking of how many times Chavez -- who is just six months younger -- has reminded him of it.

Only Chavez, who made his debut for the A's in 1998, has been with the team longer than Ellis. But the six-time Gold Glove third baseman has played in only 121 games during the past three seasons while Ellis has appeared in 372.

His presence at second base, which was missing during the 2004 season due to a dislocated right shoulder, has now become one of the only sure things in Oakland, where players are constantly on the move. On Monday, he noticed former A's shortstop Orlando Cabrera's name in the Reds lineup and on Wednesday, he'll face former teammate Barry Zito before catching up with ex-A's pitcher Dan Haren when the Diamondbacks come to town Thursday.

Call it the norm, he says.

"It's nice to be able to still see all these guys," Ellis said, "but it's a little strange. There's times when it's really tough, because you've been with these guys and they're not only teammates but friends. At the same time, you get to meet new people and build new relationships pretty easily here.

"I think in a perfect world everyone would have their nine guys out there who they'd like to play with every year, but that's just how baseball is. It's how it is throughout the league and probably a little more here, but it's the way it goes."

Ellis is in the final year of a two-year contract but has a club option for 2011. And even though everyone around him in Oakland is seemingly getting younger, he wouldn't mind getting older while playing alongside them. He became a free agent following the 2008 season but never really bothered looking elsewhere.

"I love it here," Ellis said. "I obviously went through the same deal with my contract a couple years ago and chose to stay here. We're very comfortable here. It's a great place, and the team is moving in the right direction. That's ideal for me."

An extension is also ideal for his family. Young kids Briggs and Adelaide have only ever known the Bay Area, and Ellis and his wife, Sarah, relish the opportunity to visit the same doctors and grocery stores while also staying connected to the same neighbors and friends.

"I try not to think about it too much," Ellis said. "But if that time to leave here ever comes, whether through retirement or going to a different team, that's going to be tough."

The boyish look may gradually disappear in the coming years, but Ellis insists that no matter his age or location, his constant love and dedication for the game will always join him for the ride.

"I just want to stay on the field and play as many games as I can and win as many games as I can," he said. "Nothing in this game is guaranteed."

Nothing, says Waller, except Ellis' daily work ethic.

"Mark, from Day 1, has brought a sense of professionalism," he said. "The way he goes about his work, how he interacts with the team, it's a special thing. He pours so much into his teammates, and he's always there with that leadership that can bring these guys to another level."

Gross' goal: Produce fully in limited time

Susan Slusser, Chronicle Staff Writer, 3/23/2010

Sometimes, Gabe Gross wonders how he might have fared if he'd stuck with football.

The onetime Auburn quarterback gave up that sport in his sophomore season to concentrate on baseball, and he doesn't second-guess the decision - how could he? He has a career in major-league baseball. He does think, however, about what type of quarterback he might have been with another year or two of experience.

"I came in as a true freshman and played two thirds of that season, and I did a lot of the stupid things true freshmen do, made a lot of mistakes - I didn't have a clue what I was doing," said Gross, who went from a simple high-school offense to a complex Terry Bowden offense. "Then I hung football up my sophomore year; I wasn't starting and I had to make a decision about which sport to focus on.

"I don't regret it at all, but I'd love to see where I would have been as a junior or senior if I'd stayed and learned some things. I do think about that once in a while."

On the baseball field, Gross might have similar questions: What type of player might he be with regular playing time?

The A's new outfielder hasn't been an everyday player, really. Sure, now and then he gets a stretch of extended time when a starting outfielder goes down, but really, Gross, 30, has been a bench player in the big leagues.

That's fairly unusual, because reserves tend to be older players on the down side of their careers; young players often don't handle part-time play well. Yet, since he came to the majors at the age of 24, Gross has not had more than 345 at-bats in a season; in fact, it's usually more like 200 at-bats.

"When you have to do something, you find a way; it's sink or swim in that role," said Gross, who cited Tampa Bay coach George Hendrick as a major help in learning to succeed as a part-timer.

"I've had some success coming off the bench, but I always feel like I could have done a lot better. I haven't been satisfied at all with the way I've produced in the at-bats I've had. Some of that is me, and some of that is never getting regular at-bats."

Throughout his career, Gross has had a big leg kick as part of his swing. Any exaggerated motions or extra moving parts are hard to keep fine-tuned without regular at-bats, and Gross was finding it ever more difficult to be consistent with his timing device sometimes on, sometimes off.

"It was kind of self-defeating," he said. "I fought it for several years, I tried to keep with it, because when things went well with the leg kick, they went really well. But when they went bad, they went really, really bad. It hit me straight in the face that I needed to change. Being really stubborn, it took me four years to do it."

So this offseason, Gross began to try to minimize the kick. Now, it's more like a small step instead of a big kick, and his swing is simpler.

"No matter what you do to load (the swing), if you're not getting consistent at-bats, it's hard to maintain," said A's hitting coach Jim Skaalen, who also worked with Gross in Milwaukee. "Smaller movements are easier to maintain, and he's adding some rhythm to his stride."

It appears to be working. Gross is 13-for-36 (.361), and he has a team-high 11 RBIs while playing all over the outfield.

A knack for driving in runs should assure Gross of plenty of at-bats, but he'd still like to be in the lineup on a regular basis, even if he realizes that the starting outfield of Coco Crisp, Rajai Davis and Ryan Sweeney might make that difficult.

"I hold out hope that in some way, shape or form, I'll get everyday play sometime," Gross said. "But as long as this is my role, I'll embrace it."

2010 CLIPSPersistence has paid off for Kouzmanoff

By Joe Stiglich/Bay Area News Group. 3/7/10

PHOENIX — To understand Kevin Kouzmanoff's blue-collar approach to baseball, you must understand the unlikely path he blazed to the major leagues.

The A's new third baseman hardly was a can't-miss prospect coming out of Evergreen (Colo.) High School. He held no aspirations of playing after high school until a summer league coach offered a late invitation to join his team.

Then he bounced around three colleges before the Cleveland Indians drafted him in the sixth round in 2003.

"He was never the best player on his team," Kouzmanoff's father, Marc, said. "He was never that stud that anyone looked at and said he's a future major league baseball player. But he was persistent."

Now that Kouzmanoff, 28, has established himself in the big leagues, there's hardly anything "big league" about him. He returns to Evergreen every winter to work with his hitting guru, a friend who's a carpenter by trade and has no formal background in coaching. And, as his name swirled in trade rumors this winter, Kouzmanoff escaped by working in an auto shop surrounded by mechanics who had no idea he was a ballplayer until he told them.

Kouzmanoff has brought that workmanlike manner to the A's since being obtained in a Jan. 16 trade from the San Diego Padres. Kouzmanoff has called on infield coach Mike Gallego frequently because he loves taking extra grounders.

"If it takes staying late or coming in early, I'm all about it because I have to take enough reps to feel like I'm prepared to play the game," Kouzmanoff said.

That dedication was apparent at an early age, Marc Kouzmanoff said. But Kevin didn't generate much buzz as a high school player. While playing on the summer league team after graduation, he caught the attention of the coaching staff at Cochise College, a junior college located in Douglas, Ariz.

He played two years at Cochise and earned a scholarship to Arkansas-Little Rock. Realizing that scouts weren't flocking to games there, Kouzmanoff was granted a release from his scholarship and transferred to Nevada. There, he blossomed into the Western Athletic Conference Player of the Year in 2003.

But even while he starred at Nevada, major league scouts were skeptical.

"There are certain players you see right away that excite you with their tools package," said Indians scout Don Lyle, who signed Kouzmanoff. "Guys like Kouzmanoff are subtle and have to come to you eventually. The more you watch him, the more you see things that you like."

Kouzmanoff's arrival in the major leagues with Cleveland in 2006 wasn't subtle. He hit a grand slam off Texas' Edinson Volquez on the first pitch of his first at-bat — the first player ever to do so.

"Our whole family was on SportsCenter for a week," Marc Kouzmanoff said.

Kouzmanoff was traded to San Diego before the 2007 season and averaged 20 homers and 82 RBI over the past three seasons.

No one knows Kouzmanoff's swing better than Troy Slinkard, his unofficial hitting coach since Kouzmanoff was 19. Slinkard is a carpenter whose hobby is studying baseball swings. Marc Kouzmanoff estimates Slinkard owns video footage of 500-600 major leaguers and has had Kouzmanoff watch film of himself to compare it to some of the game's top hitters.

“We just started hitting baseballs in his driveway,” Kouzmanoff said. “It’s not rocket science. He’s just a coach. We’re on the same page and same level. I understand him and he understands me.”

Kouzmanoff is expected to provide middle-of-the-order pop for a team that hit the fewest homers (135) in the American League in 2009.

“I was surprised to come over to Oakland just because I didn’t hear that they were one of the teams interested,” Kouzmanoff said. “They’re a West Coast team, a good young team. So I was excited to come here.”

2010 CLIPSPatterson trying to latch on with A's

Utility man, who is out of options, looking to prove his worth

By Jane Lee / MLB.com / 3-24-2010

PHOENIX -- Eric Patterson likes to separate himself from all things baseball once the offseason begins.

His brother, not so much.

So when the A's were bringing in utility guys left and right over the winter, including the likes of Adam Rosales and Gabe Gross, Patterson stayed away from the news.

His brother, not so much.

"My brother probably gives me more updates than I need," Patterson said, "but I try during the offseason to step away from the game a little bit. I'll check what's up every now and then, but I don't really look into it."

His elder sibling, 30-year-old Corey, just happens to be upholding big brother duties. He also happens to be a Major League player himself, having spent 10 years and counting with six different teams. But even Corey can't let the younger Patterson get too worked up about signings that could affect his brother's playing time.

In fact, Eric Patterson felt more comfortable coming into camp this year than in seasons past, even though he's well aware he's out of options and not guaranteed a roster spot come Opening Day.

"Last year, I got a lot of playing time, and for me, it's all I really wanted -- just an opportunity to get out there every day and be able to relax and show what I can bring to the team," Patterson said. "Coming into Spring Training, having finished the year on a good note, it's been easy for me to relax. I don't have to prove anything anymore. I just need to get out and continue to get work in everywhere."

"In years past, I haven't really felt good as far as coming in here and feeling comfortable. I never felt great at the plate and every at-bat I felt different, whether it was a different stance or something. So I just really think the way I finished last year has helped the comfort level and allowed me to relax."

Since coming over in the 2008 trade that sent Rich Harden to the Cubs, the 26-year-old Patterson has seen five stints in Oakland, the most recent being his most productive. After posting a .167 average in 12 games over his first two stints last year, he boasted a .344 mark with 14 walks and five stolen bases in his final one -- which began Aug. 28 and took him to the end of the season.

Patterson knows things have changed since then, though. The A's have a solid backup infielder in Rosales, along with several fourth-outfield choices, making his role very much unknown at the moment.

"I've always been a firm believer that if you can play at this level, you're going to play," he said. "I'd love to be here with this club, but if I don't fit in with what they're trying to do here, I certainly understand that."

In 16 games this spring, Patterson has compiled a respectable .289 average with 13 hits and seven RBIs while being his aggressive defensive self in stints at second base, center field and left field. He's also reached base safely in each of his past six games, giving the A's much to think about in the next

“The biggest thing for me is getting the opportunity to play and show guys I can have good [at-bats] here and have an impact on this baseball team while showing some versatility,” Patterson said. “That way, if it doesn’t work here, I can latch on somewhere else.”

Patterson joins Jake Fox as the two A’s players out of options, yet he’s found an upside to what many consider an unfortunate situation.

“The good thing about the whole out of options thing is that you kind of understand where you lie when all is said and done, how your team needs you, how other teams need you,” Patterson said. “But all I can do right now is get my work in because whatever happens, happens.”

Patterson is one of seven players competing for what appears to be three bench spots, one of which is presumably a lock for Eric Chavez if he stays healthy. The final two, though, are up for grabs between Patterson, Fox, Gross, Rosales and Steve Tolleson.

According to assistant general manager David Forst, the club will definitely “take into account” Patterson and Fox’s situations.

“You have to,” Forst said. “We’ve got 10 more days, so a decision probably won’t be made until we absolutely have to.”

Until then, Patterson plans on putting in as much work on the field as he’s allowed, no matter the position. If you had asked the utility guy two years ago if he preferred the outfield or infield, he would have chosen the latter within seconds. Now, he says “it doesn’t matter.”

“As long as I’m on the field, I’m happy,” Patterson said. “I need to get work in at all places, so whatever gets me in the lineup every day is fine with me.”

2010 CLIPS

Infielder Adam Rosales is making serious run for roster spot with A's

By Joe Stiglich, Oakland Tribune, 3/23/2010

Adam Rosales didn't wear a Cincinnati Reds uniform very long, but his all-out style of play earned him a pretty nice comparison.

The infielder became known in Cincinnati as "Pete Rosales," a reference to Pete Rose, a rather famous ex-Red who also gained attention for his hustle.

Rosales has impressed the A's with more than his attitude since coming over in a Feb. 1 trade. He's played well enough this spring to put heat on Cliff Pennington in the battle for the starting shortstop job.

Despite the competition, Rosales goes about his business like a man who understands he's getting paid to play a kid's game.

"I've just kind of always listened to what the coaches said," Rosales, 26, said. "One thing that was always constant was work hard, play hard, be smart. You should always enjoy the game."

The A's knew they were getting a high-energy player when they acquired Rosales for infielder Aaron Miles and a player to be named (the A's also got outfielder Willy Taveras in the deal but released him immediately).

They like the results they've seen, as well.

Rosales has hit .333 in 14 Cactus League games, seeing action at second base and third base as well as shortstop.

He hit just .213 in 87 games last season with Cincinnati, but his versatility attracted the A's. He played all four infield spots last season.

But the first thing usually mentioned about Rosales is his hustle, not surprising for a player who hardly took the express route to the major leagues.

Cincinnati drafted him in the 12th round out of Western Michigan in 2005, and he made his big league debut in 2008 at age 25.

Rosales drew the spotlight last season by sprinting around the bases after each of his four homers. It wasn't a ploy for attention — Rosales said he's done the same thing since he was 12.

"The first time I hit one out of the park, I jogged around the bases and it felt really awkward," he said. "It felt like it took too much time."

Reds right-hander Jared Burton said he recalls his former teammate taking a bat and hitting baseballs into the corners of the outfield, then running to retrieve them. That's one way Rosales got his conditioning in.

"He's one of those guys, if he plays the game for 15 years, he'll still be like a kid," Burton said. "He appreciates every chance he gets out there."

Sometimes Rosales' up-tempo style gets the best of him.

"The biggest thing with Adam is he gets out of control at times," A's second baseman Mark Ellis said. "But he's gotten so much better since camp started. He plays very hard. He doesn't say a whole lot. He's just going about his business."

He could start the season in the minor leagues if he doesn't beat out Pennington at shortstop. Jake Fox and Eric Patterson are also fighting to make the team as utility men, and both are out of options.

"Once you start worrying about (making the team), you start pressing," Rosales said. "You've just got to keep the fun in it or else you're going to get yourself in trouble."

Suzuki set for season 3

By Mark Brown / Special to the Star-Bulletin 4/4/2010

If you're looking to speak with Kurt Suzuki after a game, be prepared to wait. If you wish to speak with Suzuki prior to a game, he's likely nowhere to be found. That's because the Wailuku, Maui, native is busy lifting weights, scouting other teams, taking extra batting practice, lifting more weights and generally exhibiting a work ethic that would push anyone to the brink.

In just two years with Oakland, Suzuki, the A's everyday catcher, has rapidly emerged as "the best kept secret in baseball," according to Bob Geren, his manager. That may not be good enough for the 26-year-old Baldwin graduate as he continues to push himself in areas unknown to most players.

Usually, he's the first in the locker room each day, and one of the last to leave. After games, reporters routinely hang around his locker for a considerable period of time because he's usually riding the stationary bike long after the final out.

"Nothing is given to you, and you need to figure things out on your own," he said the other day in the A's spring training clubhouse. "I'm looking to be a complete player and always learning. I can't see a moment where I will not stop learning."

Suzuki says "consistency" best describes his approach to the game. "Results are results, and numbers are numbers," he added. "Baseball is a game of ups and downs. I want to be as consistent as I can every year."

In his two full years at the major league level, Suzuki hit .279 in 2008 and .274 last season. In the space of one season, his RBI total jumped dramatically to a club-high 88 last season. In the process, Suzuki became only the second catcher in franchise history to lead the A's in RBIs. The other was Frankie Hayes for the 1944 Philadelphia Athletics.

Suzuki topped AL catchers in doubles, RBIs and stolen bases, and was second in runs scored and third in hits.

For 2010, Suzuki may have a chance to increase that RBI total. The A's have loaded their lineup with speed at the top, though leadoff hitter Coco Crisp is out for at least a month with a broken pinkie. Center fielder Rajai Davis is coming off a .305 season and a team-high 41 stolen bases.

For the modest Suzuki, the goal is not necessarily just to improve his offensive numbers. "I want to be known as a guy who can do it all," Suzuki said. "Players tend to concentrate on some areas of their game. I'm always looking to improve in every aspect."

Suzuki emerged as a strong force in handling the pitching staff. Adhering to that work ethic, Suzuki, before each series, meets with the coaching staff to go over hitters, study tape and then confer with pitchers.

"The biggest thing for Kurt is his calming effect on the staff," starter Brett Anderson said after going five innings last Sunday in a spring training game against Colorado. "Guys around here have a tendency to get hyped up, and he knows how to settle a pitcher down and create an intelligent pace."

To complement his bat and handling of the staff, Suzuki has developed as a premier defensive catcher. Last season, he led AL catchers in innings, putouts and total chances. He was second in the league in assists and fourth in fielding percentage. Suzuki was rated as the third best defensive catcher in the AL by Baseball America's best tools survey.

"He is a phenomenal defensive catcher," Anderson added. "I have a tendency to throw breaking balls in the dirt, and he has saved me so many times."

Suzuki has not forgotten his roots. Returning to the islands each winter, he said visits to family and friends do the mind and body well.

“There are many great players from home,” he said. “Yep, I played against (the Phillies’ Shane) Victorino in high school, and he was an amazing player. I was struck how good this guy was in every sport.”

For now, Suzuki is preparing to move ahead in a career destined to be sprinkled with achievements and accolades.

“He is an overachiever,” Geren said. “Here’s a guy from a small high school, and an area producing not many major leaguers.

“He walks on at Cal State Fullerton, and helps them win the national championship. That says something about his character and athletic ability. He simply has a strong desire to win and a great work ethic.”

1997 — Selected by the Chicago Cubs organization in the 11th round of the June draft. 2009 — Traded to the Oakland Athletics for outfielder Richie Robnett and infielder Justin Sellers, February 2.

RIGHT-HANDED PITCHERHeight/Weight: 6-4 / 207Bats/Throws: Right / RightBirthdate: October 10, 1979Opening Day Age: 30Birthplace/Resides: Pratt, Kansas / Springfield, MissouriMajor League Service: 1 year, 122 daysObtained: Signed as a free agent to a minor league contract, June 18, 2004Contract Status: First year of a one-year contract through 2010.2010 HIGHLIGHTS

- Worked in each of the first three games of the season...since 1995, the only A's pitcher to appear in each of the teams first three games was Keith Foulke in 2008, but that was the year the A's opened in Japan and had five days off between games two and three...the last prior to Foulke was Bill Taylor in 1994.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Has a 2.17 ERA and 18 saves in 116 relief appearances in his first two seasons with the A's...pitched for the United States in the 2009 World Baseball Classic...made his Major League debut in 2008 and started his career with a 39.0 inning scoreless streak, which was a modern ML record to start a career, an American League rookie record and the Oakland record...was named to the Topps Major League All-Rookie team and the Baseball Digest Major League Rookie All-Star team in 2008...has been the epitome of perseverance during his six-year professional career, overcoming two skull fractures (2004, 2008) and an arm injury, and undergoing a transformation to submariner...began his career as a starter and was 33-17 with a 4.05 ERA in 78 games, 73 starts, over his first four years as a professional...converted to reliever in 2007 and was 14-3 with 10 saves and a 1.93 ERA in 69 minor league appearances from 2007-08...was originally drafted by Philadelphia in the 20th round of the 2003 draft but was released prior to the 2004 season and pitched in an independent league before signing with the A's organization June 18, 2004...led the A's farm system with 164 strikeouts in 2005...was named to the Texas League Postseason All-Star team in 2006 after ranking second in the TL in ERA (3.37).

2009 HIGHLIGHTS

Was 2-4 with seven saves and a 3.07 ERA in 69 relief appearances...allowed two home runs in 73.1 innings for an average of 0.25 per nine innings, the third lowest mark among American League relievers...led AL relievers and ranked second in the majors with 14 grounded into double plays (Affeldt, SF 18)...ranked third among AL relievers in most hits allowed (82) and had a .293 opponents batting average...that included a .265 (45 for 170) mark against right-handed hitters and .336 (37 for 110) against left-handers...opponents hit .384 with runners in scoring position after allowing a .116 average in that situation in 2008.
