TIGERS AT A GLANCE: The Tigers finished the regular season with an 88-74 record to capture the American League Central Division championship. It marks the 14th time in franchise history the Tigers have secured a spot in the playoffs.

LOOKING BACK AT LAST NIGHT'S GAME: The Tigers suffered a 4-3 loss to Oakland last night, and the best-of-five game American League Division Series is tied 2-2. Jose Valverde took the loss in relief for Detroit, allowing three runs in the ninth inning. Prince Fielder led the Tigers with two hits, including a solo home run.

THE SERIES GOES THE DISTANCE: The Tigers and Athletics will battle in the fifth and deciding game of the American League Division Series this evening at Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum. It marks the eighth time in the club's post-season history the Tigers have had a series go to the maximum number of games. Detroit has compiled a 3-4 record in the previous seven series. The Tigers won Game Seven of both the 1945 and 1968 World Series and Game Five of the 2011 American League Division Series, while the team suffered the loss in Game Seven of the 1909, 1934 and 1940 World Series and Game Five of the 1972 American League Championship Series.

QUALITY WORK: Tigers starting pitchers have registered a quality start in three of the club's four games thus far during the American League Division Series. Detroit starters have compiled a 1.75 ERA (25.2IP/5ER) and 30 strikeouts during the four starts, while limiting Oakland to a .191 batting average (17x89). The Tigers tied for second among all American League clubs with 90 quality starts during the regular season.

CABRERA REACHES SAFELY: Miguel Cabrera collected one hit last night at Oakland and he has now reached base safely in all 15 of his post-season games with the Tigers. His 15-game streak is the third-longest such streak in club history, trailing an 18-game streak by Hank Greenberg and a 16-game streak by Charlie Gehringer.

POSTING A DOUBLE-DIGIT STRIKEOUT TOTAL: Tigers pitchers combined to fan 12 batters last night in Game Four of the American League Division Series at Oakland. It marked the 12th time in club post-season history that Detroit has struck out 10-or-more batters during a single game. The Tigers equaled a single-game post-season record with 14 strikeouts in Game One of the American League Division Series on Saturday.

A SECOND STRAIGHT AMERICAN LEAGUE CENTRAL DIVISION TITLE: The Tigers clinched the American League Central Division for the second straight season on October 1 at Kansas City and advanced to the playoffs for the 14th time in franchise history. It marks the fifth time the Tigers have captured a division title since divisional play began during the 1969 season. Detroit has advanced to the playoffs in consecutive seasons for the first time since the club did so in both 1934 and 1935.

FAMILIAR TERRITORY FOR THE SKIPPER: Tigers Manager Jim Leyland has guided a club to the post-season for the seventh time in his 21 seasons as a major league manager, including the third time during his seven-year tenure with the Tigers. He has compiled a 34-30 record (.531) during post-season action. Leyland led the Pittsburgh Pirates to three straight National League East Division titles (1990-92), and he captured the National League Wild Card with the Florida Marlins in 1997. His 1997 Marlins defeated the Cleveland Indians to win the World Series. Leyland's 2006 Tigers club won the American League Wild Card, advancing to the World Series after defeating the Yankees in the American League Division Series and Athletics in the American League Championship Series. The 2011 Tigers captured the American League Central Division title and advanced to the American League Championship Series after defeating the Yankees in the American League Division Series.

TAKING ON OAKLAND DURING THE PLAYOFFS: The Tigers are taking on Oakland in post-season play for the third time in franchise history. Detroit swept Oakland 4-0 during the American League Championship Series to advance to the World Series in 2006. The Tigers fell 3-2 to the Athletics during the 1972 American League Championship Series.

MIGGY BRINGS HOME THE TRIPLE CROWN: Miguel Cabrera led the American League with a .330 batting average, 44 home runs and 139 RBI during the 2012 season to become the first player to win the Triple Crown since Boston's Carl Yastrzemski did so in 1967. It marked the 14th time since 1900 a player captured the Triple Crown and Cabrera is the 12th player to accomplish the feat during that time. He became the second Tigers player to do so, joining Ty Cobb (1909).

CABRERA'S SECOND STRAIGHT BATTING CROWN: Miguel Cabrera led the American League with a .330 batting average to capture his second straight batting crown. He is the first Tigers player to lead the American League in hitting in consecutive seasons since Ty Cobb did so in three straight seasons (1917-19). Cabrera led the American League with a .344 batting average during the 2011 season.

THIRD IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE IN ERA: The Tigers finished third in the American League with a 3.75 ERA during the 2012 season. The club's 3.75 ERA marked the lowest ERA by a Detroit team since the club in 1988 posted a 3.71 ERA.

PILING UP THE PUNCHOUTS: The Tigers finished second in the American League with 8.29 strikeouts per nine innings during the 2012 season, while the club tied for second with 1,318 strikeouts. The 8.29 strikeouts per nine innings marked the highest rate at which Tigers pitchers have struck out batters in club history. Detroit established a club record with 1,318 strikeouts during the 2012 season. The previous franchise record of 1,115 strikeouts was held by both the 1968 and 2011 teams.

VERLANDER, SCHERZER SURPASS 200 STRIKEOUTS: Justin Verlander topped the American League with 239 strikeouts during the 2012 season, while Max Scherzer finished second with 231 strikeouts. Verlander and Scherzer became only the second duo in Tigers history to fan 200-or-more batters in a season. Mickey Lolich and Joe Coleman accomplished the feat three times for Detroit, doing so in 1971, 1972 and 1973.

INJURY UPDATE: C Victor Martinez (left knee surgery, 60-day DL on March 12), OF Ryan Raburn (right quadriceps strain, 15-day DL on September 11), LHP Daniel Schlereth (left shoulder tendinitis, 60-day DL on April 21).
