Oakland A's to Host "Access Day" this Friday, Aug. 31 50% Off Concessions, 25% Off Merchandise, & $10 Parking for All Fans

OAKLAND, Calif. – All fans attending the Oakland A's game on Friday, Aug. 31 will receive 50 percent off concessions, 25 percent off merchandise, and $10 parking during the team's "Access Day."

"A's Access benefits are the best in baseball and we want all of our fans to experience them for one day. 'Access Day' is the preview for our September benefits that begin the following day for all 2019 A's Access Members," said Oakland A's COO Chris Giles.

The concession discount will apply to all of the food and beverage options inside the ballpark, excluding food trucks, catering and suites. Fans will also pay just $10 parking at all gates.

A's Access Members who have joined (new for 2019 and renewed 2018 plans) are also eligible for 50 percent off concessions, 25 percent off merchandise and $10 prepaid parking starting Saturday, Sept. 1 through all September home games.

A's Access provides all members general admission access to every 2019 regular season home game, a reserved seat plan, and significant benefits that are exclusive to members. Members will receive 50 percent off concessions, 25 percent off merchandise, and parking benefits, as well as an allotment of seat upgrade credits for games not included in their reserved ticket plan. A's Access also includes a flexible new payment plan, a 12-month option that auto renews each year. Fans who purchase 2019 A's Access by Sept. 17 will have the first opportunity to purchase 2018 postseason tickets, including a "Pay As We Play" option.
