RingCentral Named Official Business Communications Partner of the Oakland A's

OAKLAND, Calif. – The Oakland A's today announced RingCentral (NYSE: RNG) as the team's official business communications partner. The business-to-business partnership will integrate RingCentral's technology into the A's front office and see a marketing collaboration between the A's and RingCentral, a leading provider of global enterprise cloud communications, collaboration, and contact center solutions.

As the official business communications partner, RingCentral will bring its industry-leading cloud technology to the A's organization.

The four-year partnership will also provide RingCentral with marquee branding throughout the Oakland Coliseum, including an outfield wall sign in left field and rotational signage in the backstop. During games, RingCentral will serve as the presenting partner for the A's Radio Network, as well as instant replays and A's calls to the bullpen.

"RingCentral's leadership in the cloud communications and collaboration space and their understanding of our needs makes them a perfect partner for us as we strive to be one of the league's most innovative teams," said A's COO Chris Giles. "This partnership will provide our staff with a best-in-class communications experience."

"We're excited to partner with the Oakland A's to enhance their overall communications experience," said David Sipes, chief operating officer, RingCentral. "The partnership will give the A's access to our differentiated open cloud communications platform that integrates voice, video, and team messaging, to enhance fan engagement and improve productivity across the organization."
