Oakland A's to Pack 400 Military Care Packages During Operation Care and Comfort Event Today, July 3

A's players Blake Treinen, Robbie Grossman, Nick Hundley to join care package event

OAKLAND, Calif. – To begin Military Appreciation Night on Wednesday, July 3, Oakland A's players Blake Treinen, Robbie Grossman, and Nick Hundley and his family will join A's front office staff for an Operation Care and Comfort volunteer event, presented by Chevrolet. The group will assemble 400 care packages to send to deployed military as part of Operation Care and Comfort's Military Care Package Program, which exists to provide support and comfort to "adopted" units of deployed US military service members serving in Iraq, Afghanistan, and conflict regions by sending much-needed items.

The A's Military Appreciation Night, presented by Chevrolet, will also include a swearing-in ceremony of 150 military recruits on the field, a ceremonial first pitch from a retired US Navy Commander and World War II Ace, a check presentation to the Folds of Honor foundation, and postgame Patriotic Fireworks.

WHAT: Members of the Oakland A's organization will create 400 care packages to send to deployed military as part of Operation Care and Comfort's Military Care Package Program

WHO: Oakland A's players Blake Treinen, Robbie Grossman, and Nick Hundley and his family, as well as A's front office staff and volunteers from Operation Care and Comfort

WHEN: Wednesday, July 3, at noon

WHERE: Oakland Coliseum – Eastside Club lower lobby
7000 Coliseum Way
Oakland, CA 94621

MEDIA NOTE: Media are invited to cover the event. Please enter through the plaza's glass doors on the west side of the Coliseum. Video b-roll will also be available on the A's virtual press box following the event.
