OAKLAND, Calif. – For just $33 a month, Oakland A's fans can attend every, or any, 2020 regular season home game when they become a member of A's Access. The most flexible membership program in sports will now offer even greater flexibility, increased access to the ballpark, and additional benefits for fans next season. Membership plans for the 2020 regular season will go on sale on Monday, Aug. 5.

A's Access is the first program of its kind, allowing fans to tailor the experience they want every, and any, time they come to the ballpark. Members will receive general admission access to the entire ballpark for every regular season home game, a flex or set seat ticket plan, 50 percent off concessions, $10 prepaid parking, and 25 percent off merchandise. Plans start at just $33 a month.

"A's Access is the best membership program in sports, and we've made it even better for next year," said Oakland A's COO Chris Giles. "We simplified the program and enhanced the benefits to provide even greater flexibility, access, and discounts for our most loyal fans."

Fans who purchase 2020 A's Access this season will receive member benefits for the remainder of the 2019 regular season, including 50 percent off concessions and general admission access to every remaining game; plus the opportunity to purchase 2019 Postseason tickets, including a "Pay As We Play" payment option.

A's Access starts at just $33 a month, and it can be tailored to fit the experience the fan wants for every or any game. Memberships auto renew each year. 2020 A's Access will go on sale on Monday, Aug. 5. For more information, visit athletics.com/access.
