FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

July 31, 2019

Fans Can Experience the Big Leagues at A's Fantasy Camp in Mesa in January A's alumni Babitt, Braden, Campaneris, Crosby, and others to serve as coaches

OAKLAND, Calif. – Fans can live out their Major League dream of being a member of the green and gold during A's Fantasy Camp in Mesa from Jan. 9 to 14, 2020. Attendees will join A's alumni, including Shooty Babitt, Dallas Braden, Greg Cadaret, Bert "Campy" Campaneris, and Bobby Crosby, for hands-on instruction, field activities, and nights filled with stories from the past. Experience packages are now on sale at athletics.com/fantasycamp.

Campers will receive a custom jersey to don during the daily activities and take home when camp breaks, along with autographs and unforgettable memories.

Fantasy Camp participants will enjoy daily baseball instruction at the A's Lew Wolff Training Complex in Mesa, four days of play on the professionally maintained fields, access to the player clubhouse, and first-class treatment from staff and athletic trainers.

Fans can choose between two experience packages: the gold package, including a seven-day/six-night stay in Scottsdale, pre-event golf outing with A's alumni, opening night reception; or the green package, including a six-day/five-night stay, opening night reception. There is also an option to add on a tag-along package, for friends and family to watch A's Fantasy Camp and attend the opening and closing receptions.

Packages are now available at athletics.com/fantasycamp. Fans can pay in full or choose a two-payment option, with the second payment due on Oct. 15. Email RSVP@athletics.com with any questions.
