A's Statement on Positive COVID-19 Test

OAKLAND, Calif. – The Oakland A's learned today that a member of the organization has tested positive for COVID-19 and Major League Baseball has postponed today's game in Houston at Minute Maid Park.

The team conducted testing and contact tracing for the entire traveling party this morning and will self-isolate in Houston with recommended safety precautions in place.

The A's organization and Major League Baseball will continue to provide updates as necessary.
