A's Donate $20,000 to Charities from Funds Raised During 20-Game Win Streak Weekend

OAKLAND, Calif. – The Oakland Athletics announced today that the team will donate $20,000 to charities from money raised this weekend during the club's celebration of the 2002 A's record-setting 20-game winning streak.

Through autograph signings and an exclusive meet-and-greet session with the 2002 team, the A's raised $10,000 for the Cory Lidle Foundation. The check was presented to Melanie Lidle and the late pitcher's son, Christopher, as part of pre-game festivities last night at the Coliseum.

In addition, the A's raised $10,000 for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation through ticket sales to the Moneyball movie showing, which was staged on the outfield grass at the Coliseum after last night's 8-5 victory over the Cleveland Indians. The check was presented to Cystic Fibrosis Foundation representative Bob Burke prior to today's series finale against Cleveland.
