A's, PG&E to Host 'Energize Your Field' Opening Ceremony at San Lorenzo Little League Complex

A's Catcher Stephen Vogt to Toss Out First Pitch at Newly Renovated Field on Saturday, May 16

WHAT:

The Oakland A's, in partnership with Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E) and the Good Tidings Foundation, will host an opening ceremony at the San Lorenzo Little League Complex on Saturday, May 16. A field at the complex was recently renovated by the A's and PG&E as part of the "Energize Your Field" program.

Various improvements were made to Field #1 at the San Lorenzo Little League Complex, including the installation of a new home plate area, pitcher's mound, infield and irrigation system as well as new sod. In total, the complex serves more than 500 children.

A's catcher Stephen Vogt will be on hand to participate in the field dedication and toss out the ceremonial first pitch. Joining Vogt for the ceremony will be Gil De Hoyos, San Lorenzo Little League President; Laura Wetmore, PG&E Mission Division Senior Manager; Ken Pries, A's Vice President of Communications and Broadcasting; and Comcast SportsNet California broadcaster Shooty Babitt.
