A's Recall LHP Danny Coulombe from Triple-A Nashville

OAKLAND, Calif. – The Oakland A's recalled left-handed pitcher Danny Coulombe from Triple-A Nashville as the 26th man for the second game of today's doubleheader, the club announced today.

Coulombe joins the A's for the third time this year and has a 4.70 ERA and .250 opponents batting average in two stints with the Oakland. He was recalled most recently on April 27 and logged a 3.95 ERA in 16 games before he was optioned to Nashville June 14. The 28-year-old left-hander pitched in one game for the Sounds following his option, taking the loss on June 17 at Albuquerque (1.2 ip, 3 h, 4 r, 1 er, 1 so). Coulombe has a 2.45 ERA in two appearances overall at Triple-A
