TEN ISN'T ENOUGH: The Royals suffered a 12-10 loss to the Athletics last night, losing despite scoring 10 runs for just the 20th time in franchise history and the first time in eight years... Carlos Hernández, who entered with an American League-best 1.68 ERA (9 ER in 48.1 IP) in his previous eight outings, was charged with a career-high seven runs on nine hits in 4.0 innings plus two batters and lost for the first time since July 18 vs. Baltimore, snapping a streak of nine unbeaten appearances (8 starts)...despite the early deficit, the Royals quickly turned a 5-1 score into a 5-4 game following Hanser Alberto's two-run single in the fourth...Oakland scored three in the fifth and four in the seventh to make it a 12-5 game, but the Royals nearly overcame that deficit, scoring once in the seventh, thrice in the eighth and once in the ninth, and put the tying run in scoring position before Ryan O'Hearn grounded out with the bases loaded to end the four-hour, two-minute game, in which the Royals matched a season high with 17 hits...last night was just the third 9-inning game in franchise history in which the Royals lost despite recording at least 10 runs and 17 hits, following Aug. 22, 2001 vs. the White Sox, a 13-12 loss with 18 hits, and May 19, 1985 at Milwaukee, an 11-10 loss with 17 hits.

WHERE RUBBER MEETS THE ROAD: After splitting the first two games of this three-game set vs. Oakland, the Royals will play their 15th rubber game of the season...the Royals are 7-7 in series-deciding games this season and are attempting to post a winning record in rubber games for the first time since 2016, when they went 11-9...the Royals have not won a series-deciding game vs. the A's since Aug. 16, 2017 in Oakland, which was the last time they won a series vs. the A's...a win today would mark their first series win over the A's at Kauffman Stadium since they took two of three from April 17-19, 2015...the Royals are 1-8 in nine completed series vs. the Athletics since 2016, a stretch in which they're 10-23, including the first two games of this set.

SALVY SPLASHES: Salvador Perez hit his 44th homer of the season last night, matching Shohei Ohtani for the second most in the Majors, one behind Vladimir Guerrero Jr. (45)...it was his 196th career home run, one shy of Mike Sweeney (197) for second in Royals history, and with 17 games remaining, Salvy is four homers shy of matching Jorge Soler (48 HR in 2019) for the club's single-season record...after hitting 21 home runs in 89 games before the All-Star break, Perez leads the Majors since the break with 23 homers in 55 games, four more than Joey Votto (19)...his 23 second-half homers are two shy of Soler's 25 in 2019 for the most by a Royal.

- + Of Salvy's 44 home runs, 30 have come as a catcher—including last night's—which are five shy of Hall of Famer Iván Rodríguez's American League record of 35 HR as a catcher, set in 1999, according to Elias...Perez's 44 homers are the second most in a season in which the player caught at least 75% of his games, one behind Hall of Famer Johnny Bench, who hit 45 homers in 1970, including 38 as a catcher.
- Salvy enters today with 110 RBI, three more than José Abreu (107) for the Major League lead, and he's attempting to become the second Royal to lead the Majors in RBI, and would join Hal McRae, who recorded a Majors-best 133 RBI in 1982...Perez also leads the Majors with 57 RBI in 55 games since the All-Star break, and he's on pace for 123 RBI, which would be third-highest single-season total in club history behind Sweeney (144 in 2000) and McRae (133 in 1982), and would be the most Royals SP 6.0 IP+ | Less Than 6.0 by any player who played at least 75% of his games at catcher since Mike Piazza had 124 RBI in 1999.
- The last to lead the Majors in both HR and RBI was Giancarlo Stanton in 2017, when he won NL MVP.
- In his last 162 games since Aug. 15, 2020, Perez is batting .283 (178-for-628) with 51 homers and 130 RBI. Perez has five home runs and 13 RBI in his last four home games, and has 24 homers and 63 RBI in
- 71 games at Kauffman Stadium this season...his 24 homers are the most in a single season in the 49year history of this ballpark, three more than Chili Davis (1997), Dean Palmer (1998) and Soler (2019).
- 🛨 In six games vs. the A's this season, Salvy is batting .417 (10-for-24) with four home runs and seven RBI.

HIGH FIVE: Andrew Benintendi had five of the Royals' 17 hits last night to match a single-game career high for the third time, becoming the first Royal with a five-hit game since Whit Merrifield on July 8, 2018 vs. Boston...all five hits were singles, making him the first Royal with five one-base hits in a game since Billy Butler on Sept. 5, 2013 vs. Seattle...three of his five hits last night drove in a run, including RBI singles in the first and seventh and a two-run single in the eighth to mark the ninth five-hit, four-RBI game in Royals history and the first since Eric Hosmer turned the trick with five hits and six RBI on July 26, 2017 at Detroit.

+ Benintendi is batting .613 (19-for-31) with six extra-base hits (1.606 OPS) and 17 RBI during his active seven-game hit streak, in which he has recorded two four-hit efforts, two four-RBI efforts, and last night's five-hit, four-RBI game...he's the first Royal with at least 19 hits in a seven-game span since Johnny Damon had 19 hits in seven games from July 16-22, 2000, and he's the second Royal to record

9/15 KC L 12-10 Manaea Hernández 9/16 17 RBI in a seven-game span, joining Raúl Ibañez, who had 17 RBI in seven games from July 14-19, 2002. According to STATS LLC, Benintendi is the first player in the Majors to record at least 19 hits and 17 RBI over a seven-game span since Hall of Famer Bobby Doerr from June 7-13, 1950...during his seven-game hit streak, Benintendi has raised his season average 26 points from .252 to .278.

LOVE FOR LOPEZ: Nicky Lopez beat out an infield single in the seventh inning last night to extend his hit streak to 11 games, in which he's batting .429 (21-for-49) to mark the longest active hit streak in the American League and the second-longest hit streak of his career, one shy of a 12-game run from Aug. 16-29, 2019...Lopez also has a career-best 24-game on-base streak, which is the longest streak by a Royal since Jorge Soler reached in 25 straight from Sept. 14, 2019-Aug. 3, 2020...Lopez leads the Majors with 40 hits in 24 games since the streak began on Aug. 21, four more than Vladimir Guerrero Jr.'s 36 hits...in those 24 games, Lopez is batting .396 (40-for-101)—second best in the Majors—with a .455 on-base percentage

- Lopez has 70 hits in 53 games since the All-Star break, which are tied for third most in the Majors and are tied with Freddie Freeman for the most among left-handed batters since the break...Lopez ranks sixth in the Majors since the break with a .345 average, third best among lefties behind Juan Soto (.361) and Bryce Harper (.346)...Lopez leads the team with a .303 batting average for the season, which ranks second among American League left handers behind Michael Brantley (.315), and he's attempting to become the first Royals left hander to hit .300 since Eric Hosmer (.318) in 2017.
- After batting .226 (36-for-159) through his first 59 games of the season, Lopez is batting a Major League-best .347 (95-for-274) in his last 75 games since June 15 with an American League-leading .397 on-base percentage, which ranks fourth among all big leaguers during that time.
- Lopez is 20-for-20 on steal attempts this season, which are the most steals in the Majors without being caught...the only player in Royals history to finish a season with more than 20 steals without a caught stealing was Alcides Escobar, who went a club-record 22-for-22 in 2013. + Lopez ranks tied for second in the Majors among all positions with 16 Outs Above Average, trailing only Arizona shortstop Nick Ahmed (18 OAA).

DANIEL LYNCH is making the 13th start of his rookie season and first vs. the Oakland Athletics...Lynch, 24, was selected by Kansas City with the 34th pick in the 2018 First-Year Player Draft, which the Royals received as compensation for Eric Hosmer signing with San Diego...he is one of five players selected by the Royals in the 2018 Draft to debut with Kansas City, joining pitchers Brady Singer (18th overall), Jackson Kowar (33rd), Kris Bubic (40th) and outfielder Kyle Isbel (3rd round).

STRONG FINISH: Daniel did not factor into the decision of the Royals' 6-4 win in 11 innings last Friday at Target Field, in which he was charged with four runs on seven hits and no walks in 6.0 innings, with four strikeouts...given a 3-0 lead in the top of the first, Lynch surrendered four in the bottom half before recording his first out, including a leadoff homer by Byron Buxton and a three-run homer by Josh Donaldson...Michael A. Taylor tied the game on an RBI double in the fourth, the 100th two-base hit of his career, and the game remained tied into the 11th inning, when Andrew Benintendi hit a two-run shot—his second homer of the game which proved to be the difference...after allowing the first four Twins to reach in the first inning, Lynch retired 18 of the next 21, and in tandem with five relievers, the Royals retired 32 of the last 38 and did not allow a hit after the fourth inning.

He has allowed 10 runs in 8.2 innings over his last two starts, after allowing just 10 runs in his seven previous starts (40.1 IP), in which he recorded a 2.23 ERA.

WALK THIS WAY: Lynch did not walk any of the 25 batters he faced last Friday in Minnesota, marking the third start out of 12 in which he did not issue a walk...his last start snapped a stretch of five starts in which he walked 16 batters in 24.0 innings, for a 6.0 BB/9...luckily, only three of the 16 batters he's walked over those five starts have come around to score, but two of those came in his Sept. 4 start vs. the White Sox

LYNCHPIN: Daniel made his highly-anticipated debut with three starts during his first big league stint in May and totaled just 8.0 innings, in which he was charged with 15 runs on 18 hits and five walks...but after more than two months in the minors, the 24-year-old returned on July 25 and has flipped the script, proving why he's thought to be a key piece of the Royals future...over nine starts since his most recent recall, Lynch owns a 3.67 ERA (20 ER in 49.0 IP) and .258 opponents' average (49-for-190), including 8.0 scoreless innings for his first career win on July 25 vs. Detroit.

+ After losing his first three starts, the Royals have won seven of his last nine starts.

DANIEL LYNCH CAREER vs. ATHLETICS BATTERS PLAYER AB H 2B 3B HR RBI BB SO AVG OBP

Daniel has never faced an Athletics batter

SOUTHPAW STORY: Including Lynch's start today, the Royals have started a left hander in 70 of their 146 games (47.9%), which are the fourth most in the Majors this season...the Royals' 70 starts by southpaw starters are their most since 2012, when 74 of their 162 games (45.7%) were started by left handers, and they're on pace for 78 such starts, which would be their most as a team since 2011, when they had 79 games started by southpaws.

+ The Royals are 35-34 in games started by a left-handed pitcher, including 17-11 since All-Star break, and they've won seven of Lynch's last nine starts.

- Lynch has faced 258 batters through his first 12 big league starts, but only 31 of them have been left-handed batters, a group that is 5-for-27 with two walks, a sacrifice hit and a sacrifice fly vs. Lynch...right handers are batting .308 vs. Lynch, but just .271 (45-for-166) since his recall.

AT HOME: Lynch is 2-2 with a 6.83 ERA (21 ER in 27.2 IP) in six home starts, including eight runs in 0.2 innings on May 8 vs. the White Sox, and six runs in 2.2 innings in his most recent home start on Sept. 4 vs. the White Sox...in four home starts vs. teams not named the White Sox, Lynch is 2-0 with a 2.59 ERA (7 ER in 24.1 IP), including 8.0 scoreless innings for his first win on July 25 vs. Detroit, and 7.0 innings of one-run ball in an Aug. 17 win vs. Houston.

TOMORROW NIGHT'S STARTER: RHP BRADY SINGER (4-10, 4.85)

- Brady will make his 26th start of the season and 38th of his career in tomorrow night's series opener vs. the Mariners at Kauffman Stadium. In his last start on Saturday in Minnesota, Singer was charged with his 10th loss after allowing six runs on six hits (5 HR) in 4.2 innings, matching the club record for the most home runs allowed by a Royals pitcher in a single outing, which had been done three other times and most recently
- by Jakob Junis on April 26, 2018 vs. the White Sox...allowed three homers in a span of five batters, yielding back-to-back shots to Byron Buxton and Jorge Polanco with one out in the first inning, before allowing a leadoff home run to Nick Gordon in the second...retired six of his next seven until he was tagged for another leadoff shot from Max Kepler in the fourth...yielded a single in the fifth, which was followed by Polanco's second home run of the night...he struck out the next batter and issued a two-out walk, before exiting in favor of Tyler Zuber, who stranded the runner.
- Singer has faced the Mariners just once in his career, which came three starts ago on Aug. 29 in Seattle, where he tossed 6.0 innings and allowed two runs (1 earned) on just three hits and three walks, with five strikeouts, however he did not factor into the decision as the Royals fell 4-3. He's 5-8 with a 4.90 ERA (51 ER in 93.2 IP) in 19 starts at home this season...he's pitched into the seventh inning of each of his last two home starts.

MANAGER MIKE MATHENY

- With a win on Opening Day vs. Texas, Mike Matheny—in his ninth season as a Major League manager—became the ninth active manager to record a win vs. all 30 teams, according to Elias, joining Dusty Baker (24th season), Bud Black (14th season), Terry Francona (21st season),
- Joe Girardi (13th season), AJ Hinch (8th season), Joe Maddon (18th season), Don Mattingly (11th season) and Bob Melvin (18th season). The game on July 30 marked Matheny's 162nd game as Royals manager, in which he went 71-91, matching the number of wins the Royals had in Ned Yost's first full season as manager in 2011, and marked a 12-game improvement on the Royals' 2019 season under Yost, in which they went 59-103.
- Matheny was named the Royals' 17th full-time manager on Oct. 31, 2019 and has a 683-587 record over nine seasons as a manager—including seven years in St. Louis—and his 683 wins are the ninth most among active managers...his .538 win percentage ranks sixth among active skippers. This is Matheny's second big league managerial stint, after leading the St. Louis Cardinals from 2012-2018, then serving as a Special Advisor to Player Development for the Royals during the 2019 campaign...he posted a winning record in each of his seven seasons with St. Louis, including a Major League-best 100 victories in 2015...Matheny led the Cardinals to the postseason in each of his first four seasons from 2012-15, becoming the first manager to do that in Major League history...under his leadership, the Cardinals were a Wild Card qualifier in 2012, before winning three-straight National League Central titles (2013-15) and winning the National League pennant in 2013.

REPLAY SPECIALIST BILL DUPLISSEA

- + Royals' replay specialist Bill Duplissea was unsuccessful in his most recent challenge on Aug. 27 in Seattle,
- where replay upheld a juggling catch by second baseman Abraham Toro to retire Andrew Benintendi. He's challenged 115 calls since 2018, and just six of them have been confirmed, including four this season, the first of which came on May 13 and snapped a streak of 35 challenges without one being confirmed...he also had a streak of 48 straight without a confirmed from Sept. 27, 2017-April 9, 2019.
- Duplissea is 16-for-31 on challenges this season, and owns a Majors-best 69.5% success rate (132-for-190) since 2016, well ahead of the Yankees, who rank second with a 64.5% overturn rate, and well above the Majors average, which is 49.7% this season as of the last update from Major League Baseball on Sept. 9...the Royals have finished in the top three in
