RAYS ORGANIZATION

Last October, after Category 4 Hurricane Michael devastated the Florida Panhandle, the Rays organized a two-day supply drive at Tropicana Field. All who donated received a voucher for two tickets to a 2019 home game. They collected four semi-trucks worth of food, water and other essential supplies, totaling 125,000 pounds and 104,000 meals to serve approximately 12,000 residents. A group of 20 Rays employees traveled in a convoy to Bay County to deliver the supplies to those impacted.

BUSINESS OPERATIONS

STUART STERNBERG / PRINCIPAL OWNER

The 2019 season is the Rays 14th under the leadership of Principal Owner Stuart Sternberg, who assumed control of the franchise in October 2005. His arrival marked the beginning of one of baseball's best turnaround stories.

Today, the massive rebranding of the club entering the 2008 season marks a watershed for two distinct eras of Rays baseball. In the club's first decade of existence, the Devil Rays amassed the majors' worst record at 645-972 (.399) and finished in last place in nine of those 10 seasons. In the 11 years since, the Rays achieved a 945-838 (.530) record, the 6th-best record in baseball, and made four trips to the postseason. In eight of those 11 seasons, the Rays were in post-season contention until at least the final week of the season. The 2018 campaign was their sixth 90-win season since 2008, a claim that can be made by only three other clubs: the Red Sox (seven), Dodgers (seven) and Yankees (six).

While the on-field successes have been the envy of small- and large-market teams alike, there is even more to the Rays progress. Sternberg takes great pride in the organization's community service and commitment to its employees.

Under Sternberg's leadership, an employee-first culture defines the organization. It is fostered through myriad initiatives, including a wellness program; a staff-led service group, the Employee Community Outreach Team (ECOT); and generous leave policies. In May 2015, the organization was recognized by U.S. Department of Labor Secretary Thomas Perez as a "Leader on Leave" due to its groundbreaking paid maternity, parental, adoption and volunteerism benefits. As part of this commitment to community, all employees are urged to spend one paid day each month volunteering. To date, total volunteer hours for the organization exceed 37,000. In October 2017, Sternberg was honored with the Light of Sight Award by the Lion's Eye Institute, for "visionary thinking in the community."

Over the past two years, Sternberg and his partners invested more than $15 million of capital improvements to Tropicana Field. This offseason, they installed LED lights throughout the stadium, created the Left Field Ledge in the lower seating bowl and reconfigured the seating capacity with the closure of the upper deck. Fans can now enjoy a more intimate, entertaining and appealing ballpark experience, just one year after an overhaul of the food, beverage and retail space. Since 2005, the Rays total investment in upgrading Tropicana Field is more than $50 million.

Under his direction, the Rays have implemented a wide variety of fan-friendly policies. The organization was the first major league team to offer free parking (still in place today for fans who carpool on Sundays), is the only major professional sports team in Florida to allow fans to bring food into the ballpark and was consistently rated by ESPN one of the most affordable experiences in all of sports.

In January 2015, Sternberg was named to Major League Baseball's Executive Council, an eight-member panel that advises Commissioner Rob Manfred on major issues. He also serves as chairman of MLB's Diversity Oversight Committee, serves on the board of directors of the MLB Business and Media Board and on the board of advisors of Moffitt Cancer Center.

Prior to his ownership of the Rays, Sternberg spent 25 years in the financial securities industry, serving as a partner in Spear, Leeds & Kellogg and then as a partner and managing director at Goldman Sachs, from which he retired in 2002. Sternberg and his wife, Lisa, have four children. They reside in Rye, N.Y.

MATT SILVERMAN / PRESIDENT

Matt Silverman enters his 16th season with the Rays and 11th as team president. Together, he and Brian Auld lead the club's business operations both internally and externally, including the pursuit of a new ballpark in Tampa Bay.

Silverman, 42, returned to the team president role in the fall of 2017 after serving three seasons (2015-17) as president of baseball operations. He was first promoted to team president in October 2005 at the age of 29, and over the next nine years guided the franchise through the most progressive growth stage in its history. At the top of the list is the revitalization of the Rays. In the fall of 2007, Silverman directed a complete organizational rebranding including a new name, colors, uniforms and logo, a bright yellow sunburst.

While steering the baseball operations department, Silverman oversaw significant leadership changes, both on the field and in the front office. During this time, he and his staff engineered 36 trades involving nearly 100 players, helping to fortify the minor league system. In December 2014, he hired Kevin Cash to become the fifth manager in Rays history. In November 2016, he elevated Erik Neander, Chaim Bloom and others within the baseball operations department. One year later, his move back to the business side completed the transition of baseball leadership, passing the baton to Neander as the team's top-ranking baseball official.

Silverman is board chairman of Starting Right, Now, which helps homeless high school students reach their potential. He is in his sixth year as the first chairman of the board of the Positive Coaching Alliance-Tampa Bay, a national nonprofit providing youth and high school athletes a positive, character-building youth sports experience. He also serves on the board of the Rays Baseball Foundation.

Prior to joining the Rays, Silverman worked closely with Stuart Sternberg at Goldman Sachs and orchestrated Sternberg's purchase of controlling interest in the franchise. In 2018, Silverman and Auld oversaw the Rays purchase of the Tampa Bay Rowdies USL soccer team, based in St. Petersburg. They now also serve as vice chairmen of the Rowdies, overseeing all franchise operations.

In 2010, Silverman received the George M. Steinbrenner III Citizen of the Year Award from the Sports Club of Tampa Bay. Street and Smith's Business Journal twice named Silverman to its "Forty Under 40" list honoring accomplished and promising sports executives under age 40.

The Dallas native first met Auld in high school, and they graduated one year apart. He holds a bachelor of economics degree from Harvard University. Matt and his wife, Andrea, reside in St. Petersburg with their three daughters: Alexa, Samantha and Casey.

TED WILLIAMS MUSEUM & HITTERS HALL OF FAME

The Ted Williams Museum and Hitters Hall of Fame opened its doors at Tropicana Field on Opening Day 2006. The museum, which covers 7,200 square feet, is located in center field by the Rays Touch Tank. The Museum is open and free of charge to game day ticket holders from gates open until the bottom of the 6th inning.

Over 500,000 fans have visited the Museum since its opening. It boasts over 125 inductees representing every major league team. There are special exhibits honoring the Negro Leagues, Japanese baseball, the All-American Girls Professional Baseball League, Jewish major leaguers and the great Roberto Clemente. Inside the theater area, the Pitching Wall of Great Achievement displays the greats from Satchel Paige to 2017 inductee José Fernández. The Museum also features Rays awards and trophies, as well as a display honoring the history of baseball in the Tampa Bay region.

BRIAN AULD / PRESIDENT

Brian Auld begins his 14th season with the Rays and his fifth in his current position as team president. Together, he and Matt Silverman lead the club's operations both internally and externally, including the pursuit of a new ballpark in Tampa Bay.

In his tenure as team president, Auld has brought a renewed focus to the Rays mission—to energize the community through the magic of Rays baseball—by redoubling the Rays commitment to its community and to its employees.

Under Auld's leadership, the Rays have developed a thriving workplace culture. In addition to paid parental leave, adoption benefits, paid volunteer time and a wellness initiative, the Rays created a $10 minimum wage for all part-time employees. In May 2015 during a visit to St. Petersburg by Secretary of Labor Thomas Perez, the Rays were recognized as an outstanding corporate citizen.

In 2018, Auld and Silverman oversaw the Rays purchase of the Tampa Bay Rowdies USL soccer team, based in St. Petersburg. They now also serve as vice chairmen of the Rowdies, overseeing all franchise operations.

Prior to Auld's promotion to team president, he oversaw a wide spectrum of the team's business operations, including the human resources, information technology, marketing, ticket sales, fan experience and stadium operations departments. Auld joined the Rays in June 2005 as director of planning and development, where he worked closely with Silverman to define organizational priorities and assist with the transition in ownership. Soon after, he played a key role in establishing the Employee Community Outreach Team (ECOT). All Rays staff may spend up to one paid workday each month volunteering in the community and ECOT assists by finding opportunities.

Before joining the Rays, Auld attended Harvard Business School, where he earned his MBA focusing on managing human capital, marketing and finance. Auld's previous work experience includes serving as lead teacher and director of development for the East Palo Alto Charter School in California.

Born in Berkeley, Calif., Auld received a bachelor's degree in economics and master's degree in education from Stanford University, where he also captained the lacrosse team. He and Silverman met in high school in Dallas, and graduated one year apart. Brian is proud to claim that he once trekked to the bottom of Mount Everest.

He currently serves on the board of directors of the Rays Baseball Foundation, Greater Tampa Chamber of Commerce, Big Brothers Big Sisters of Tampa Bay, St. Petersburg Economic Development Corporation and Tampa Bay Partnership. He also serves on the Heart Ball Cabinet for the American Heart Association and the Sports Advisory Council for Special Olympics Florida.

He and his wife, Molly, reside in St. Petersburg and are proud parents of two daughters, Lucy and Mia, and a son, Jack.

ECOT / RAYS EMPLOYEE COMMUNITY OUTREACH TEAM

Established in April 2008, the Rays Employee Community Outreach Team provides invaluable, voluntary man hours to community service agencies that enhance or improve the quality of life in the communities they serve. ECOT's philanthropic efforts give the Rays a year-round, goodwill presence in the community. Service projects are chosen from ideas suggested by employees.

"As part of our Employee Community Outreach Team program, we encourage all employees to take one paid day each month to volunteer in the community," said Rays President Brian Auld.

In total, Rays employees have logged more than 37,000 volunteer hours split between monthly ECOT events and other ongoing projects, including Meals On Wheels, Big Brothers Big Sisters mentoring program and time spent at the Ronald McDonald House.

MELANIE LENZ / CHIEF DEVELOPMENT OFFICER

Melanie Lenz was named chief development officer in January 2018. Lenz joined the Rays in November 2006 and was responsible for managing the design and construction of the Rays spring training facility in Charlotte County. In 2014, Charlotte Sports Park was voted the favorite spring training destination by the readers of USA Today. In addition to the management of capital projects for the Rays, she oversees the organization's key strategic initiatives including the Rays brand extension within the television market, management of key business relationships, business analytics activities and long-term facilities planning. Lenz attended the University of Pittsburgh's Graduate School of Public and International Affairs, and received her master's degree in urban and regional planning in 1999. She earned her bachelor's degree from Duquesne University in 1995. She serves on the board of directors of the Tampa Downtown Partnership and Pinellas County Urban League. Lenz is a native of Grampian, Pa. She and her husband, Kurt, reside in St. Petersburg with their two sons.

JOHN P. HIGGINS SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT OF ADMINISTRATION/GENERAL COUNSEL

John P. Higgins joined the Rays organization as its first employee on April 1, 1995, when he was named the team's senior vice president and general counsel. From 1999 through 2007, he also served as the organization's chief financial officer and in January 2016 he recommenced oversight of the team's accounting and finance department. Higgins has practiced law in the Tampa Bay area since 1979, specializing in corporate, commercial and real estate law. He is also a certified public accountant. For three years, he represented Vince Naimoli and the rest of the Tampa Bay ownership group in its efforts to acquire a Major League Baseball franchise. STORMY WEATHER

The Rays have had games affected by three hurricanes. On Sep 11-13, 2017, Major League Baseball moved the three-game series against the Yankees from Tropicana Field to Citi Field in New York due to Hurricane Irma's arrival in Florida. It was the fifth time in baseball history that weather concerns forced the relocation of games to a neutral site—but the second in a span of two weeks. On Aug 29-31, 2017, Tropicana Field served as a neutral host for a similar situation, as the Rangers-Astros series was moved from Houston due to the devastation caused by Hurricane Harvey. The Astros won two of three games.

In 2004, the Rays had two games postponed against the Tigers (Sep 4-5) at Tropicana Field due to Hurricane Frances. The two teams played Sep 3, but the Tigers left St. Petersburg that night after the game to avoid the storm. They returned on Sep 30 to play a doubleheader—the first of two ever played at Tropicana Field. The Tigers won the first game, 8-0, and the Rays won the nightcap, 6-4.

The Rays were supposed to fly out after the game on Sep 5 to play a Labor Day doubleheader at the Yankees the next day, but were unable to leave because of Frances. The Rays were unable to fly out of Tampa International Airport until 3 p.m. the following day, Sep 6. The Rays arrived in New York at 5:25 p.m. and played a single game that night, a 7-4 loss which began at 7 p.m. The postponed game was eventually made up in New York on Sep 23.

On Sep 17, 2000, the Rays and the Athletics postponed their game at Tropicana Field when Hurricane Gordon was bearing down. Instead of playing that Sunday afternoon, the Athletics flew to Baltimore. The game was never made up, one of three such games in club history.

BASEBALL OPERATIONS

ERIK NEANDER

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, BASEBALL OPERATIONS & GENERAL MANAGER

Erik Neander (nee-ANN-der) enters his third season as senior vice president of baseball operations and general manager, and his first season as the club's top-ranking baseball official. He was named to his current post on Nov 4, 2016, and one year later Matt Silverman shifted to team president after a three-year stretch as president of baseball operations. Neander, who turns 36 in May, is the second-youngest general manager in major league baseball, after Milwaukee's David Stearns (34).

As the leader of the baseball operations department, Erik directly oversees all of its functions, including player evaluation and procurement, player development, medical training and research and development.

While facing low-revenue challenges in the powerhouse AL East, Erik and his staff have constructed a team that has increased its win total by double digits each of the past two years. Their 90-72 record last year was their best since 2013 (92-70), and tops in the majors among teams missing the postseason. After the season he tied Stearns for second in the inaugural MLB Executive of the Year Award, behind Oakland's Billy Beane, as voted by their peers.

In just over two years as general manager, he and his staff have engineered 40 major league trades involving a total of 101 players. The Rays completed 18 trades in 2017 and 20 deals in 2018, twice shattering the previous club record for a calendar year (10 in 2007). More than half (21) of the 40-man roster has been acquired since he was appointed GM, including trade acquisitions Tommy Pham, Joey Wendle, Tyler Glasnow, Ryan Yarbrough, Austin Meadows, Mike Zunino and Yandy Diaz and free agents Avisail Garcia and Charlie Morton.

This improvement at the major league level has occurred while steadily bolstering the farm system. According to Baseball America, the Rays enter the 2019 season with the No. 2 farm system in baseball, the fourth straight season they have improved their standing. The publication ranks nine Rays prospects among the Top 100 in the game, tying the 2019 Padres and the 2011 Royals for most of any team since the rankings began in 1990. Three of their top five prospects were scouted and signed by Erik's staff: Wander Franco (No. 4 in baseball), Brendan McKay (No. 47) and Matthew Liberatore (No. 58).

Neander begins his 13th season in the Rays organization, with much of his past experience focused on player personnel, departmental administration, research and development, the amateur draft and major league operations. He joined the Rays in January 2007 as a baseball operations intern and was hired full-time in October 2007. He was later promoted to manager, baseball research and development in 2009, director of baseball operations prior to the 2012 season and vice president of baseball operations in October 2014.

Prior to joining the Rays, Erik worked for Baseball Info Solutions. The Oneonta, N.Y. native graduated from Virginia Tech with a bachelor's of science in food, nutrition and exercise. He and his wife, Jessica, reside in Tampa with their sons, Penn and Corbin; daughter, Eden; and their rescue animals.

Official Charity of the Tampa Bay Rays

THE TAMPA BAY RAYS ARE COMMITTED TO BEING A STRONG COMMUNITY PARTNER AND ENERGIZING OUR COMMUNITY THROUGH THE MAGIC OF RAYS BASEBALL.

The Rays Baseball Foundation, a 501(c)(3) organization and the official charity of the Rays, focuses on youth and educational programming that make a measurable difference in the Tampa Bay region. Key contributors to the foundation include Rays owners, players, corporate partners, fans and employees.

PROGRAMS

HOME RUN CLUB

In 2010, James and Ryane Shields, along with the Rays, donated a suite to begin a special club for foster kids called the Big Game James Club. In 2013, the Big Game James Club became the Home Run Club. Even though founders James and Ryane Shields are no longer members of the Rays organization, their legacy of advocating for children in foster care lives on. The club continues to offer a sense of stability and belonging to hundreds of foster children and adoptive families throughout Tampa Bay. Each season, with the help of Eckerd, Family Resources, Guardian ad Litem, the Heart Gallery, Ready for Life and Youth Alternatives, over 100 foster children have become club members and attended a series of home games in the suite. When the suite isn't being used for club kids, Eckerd and the Heart Gallery use it for special adoption events. Furthering the organization's support for foster children and families, the ballpark also plays host to a permanent Heart Gallery exhibit, displaying professional portraits and personal biographies of children waiting to be adopted. The Home Run Club and Heart Gallery events hosted by the Rays have resulted in numerous adoptions for local foster children.

RAYS JERSEY PROGRAM

Since 2014, the Rays Jersey Program, presented by Suncoast Credit Union and the Rays, has outfitted more than 50,000 Tampa Bay area tee-ball players and coaches with Fanatics jerseys and caps. The program covers more than 80 different leagues in nine area counties and has saved the leagues more than $1 million dollars in equipment costs. As a result of these savings, officials from some of the participating leagues have noted that they now have the ability to pass these savings along to participant families. They have also been able to repair their scoreboards, provide upgrades to dugouts, add fencing for fields, purchase additional equipment and grounds crew supplies and repair concession stands and other areas of their facilities. As part of the overall program, the Rays host instructional clinics for their players and coaches in partnership with the Positive Coaching Alliance. PCA provides tips to coaches and parents on how to provide a positive, character-building youth sports experience to their teams.

READING WITH THE RAYS

Since 2006, the Rays Baseball Foundation has teamed up with Suncoast Credit Union for the summer reading program Reading with the Rays - Read Your Way to the Ballpark. Reading with the Rays encourages kids to avoid summer reading loss by participating in a fun and interactive reading program over the summer months. More than 300,000 Tampa Bay area students from nine surrounding counties have participated since its inception. Participating libraries track their progress and award prizes for reaching certain goals, including free tickets to a Rays game. The program is made possible through a partnership with Suncoast Credit Union, Tampa Bay Times Newspaper in Education, the Rays and public library systems in Charlotte, Citrus, Hernando, Hillsborough, Manatee, Pasco, Pinellas, Polk and Sarasota counties.

SOUTH ST. PETERSBURG NEIGHBORHOOD INITIATIVE

The Rays launched the South St. Petersburg Neighborhood Initiative in response to the tragic 2009 shooting death of 8-year old Paris Whitehead in South St. Petersburg, an underserved community that borders Tropicana Field. In keeping with the Rays mission, this program has focused on youth and education, benefiting the following organizations:

Education

- ◆ Academy Prep Center of St. Petersburg
- ◆ Campbell Park Elementary
 - Field Days
 - Great American Teach In
 - Mentoring
 - Rays Room

Support of Youth Recreation

- ◆ Boys & Girls Clubs of the Suncoast
- ◆ Burg Baseball
- ◆ Child's Park YMCA
- ◆ Field Renovations

TEAM SMILE

The Rays partner with Team Smile, an advocacy group that partners dental professionals with professional athletic organizations to provide life-changing dental care to underserved children in their communities. In 2018, the Rays hosted 175 children from the Boys & Girls Clubs of the Suncoast for a free dental day at Tropicana Field. Through this experience, the children received free oral health education, screening and treatment, and were taught that the mouth and body are linked to overall health. The children received dental work completely free of charge, including X-rays, screening and educational material on how to protect their teeth. The average value of care provided per child was more than $400, for a total of over $70,000 in dental care and education. Additionally, Raymond and DJ Kitty were on hand to greet the kids, along with the Ray Team, face painters, balloon artists and Rays baseball camp coaches.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Since 2008, the Rays Baseball Foundation has teamed up with local partners to provide more than $1 million in college scholarships to students participating in the Take Stock in Children program in Hillsborough, Manatee, Pasco, Pinellas and Sarasota counties. The foundation also funds the Academy Prep Centers for Education Scholarships in Tampa, St. Petersburg, and Lakeland, the St.

Petersburg College Foundation First Generation Scholars, Barry Jones Memorial Scholarship, Don Zimmer Memorial Scholarship and St. Peter Claver Early Childhood Education Scholarship.

RAYS IN THE COMMUNITY

EMPLOYEE COMMUNITY OUTREACH TEAM (ECOT)

The Rays Employee Community Outreach Team (ECOT) was established in 2008 to provide invaluable volunteer hours to community service agencies that enhance or improve the quality of life in the communities they serve. Service projects are chosen from ideas suggested by an employee-led committee. Volunteering not only benefits the community, but also Rays employees, by allowing them to give back in a meaningful way through the course of their normal work day. In total, Rays employees have logged more than 37,000 volunteer hours to support nonprofits in the Tampa Bay region.

IN-KIND DONATIONS

Each year, the Rays donate thousands of tickets, suites, experiences and autographed memorabilia to assist organizations in our nine neighboring counties to raise funds for their respective causes.

PLAY BALL

The goal of Rays Play Ball is to celebrate youth baseball and softball while simultaneously encouraging participation in all forms of the game. The Rays do this through support of Rays RBI Tampa and Burg Baseball, the Rays Jersey Program, field renovations and many Play Ball events, like Play Ball Day & Weekend and Rays Play Ball Kids Sundays.

HOSPITAL VISITS

The Rays proudly partner with Tampa General Hospital, Moffitt Cancer Center and Johns Hopkins All Children's Hospital to bring players, coaches and mascots several times throughout the season to raise the spirits of patients and their families.

MINOR LEAGUE ERIK WALKER AWARD

The Erik Walker Community Champion Award annually recognizes Rays minor league players who exemplify teamwork, sportsmanship and community involvement, attributes exhibited by Rays minor league pitcher Erik Walker, who died tragically in October 2006. Each player chooses a nonprofit organization to receive a donation from the Rays Baseball Foundation.

ROBERTO CLEMENTE AWARD

Each season, the Rays nominate a player for the Roberto Clemente Award. The Roberto Clemente Award is the annual recognition of a player from each MLB club who best represents the game of baseball through extraordinary character, community involvement, philanthropy and positive contributions, both on and off the field.

TUESDAY'S CHAMPION

Before every Tuesday home game at Tropicana Field, the Rays host a child from the Make-A-Wish Foundation or Children's Dream Fund at the ballpark as a part of a special program called "Tuesday's Champion." The kids, accompanied by their families, are invited to be on the field during batting practice where they can meet and interact with Rays players and coaches. They are then treated to dinner in the Rays Club before taking the field and throwing out the ceremonial first pitch. Along with these experiences, they are also given a personalized jersey and a bat. The children selected for the program are battling life-threatening illnesses and many come straight from the hospital for this special experience.

RAYS WIVES

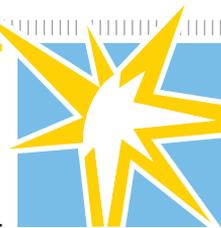

Throughout the baseball season, the Rays Wives plan and participate in various community events benefiting organizations of their choosing. In 2018, the Rays Wives' events benefited Broward Education Foundation's Stoneman Douglas Victims Fund, CASA St. Petersburg, Children's Dream Fund, Feeding Tampa Bay, Hope Children's Home, Pet Pal Animal Shelter and SPCA Tampa Bay.

COACHES & STAFF

Manager Kevin Cash enters his fifth season piloting the Rays, which already makes him the 2nd-longest-tenured manager in Rays history. Among AL managers, only Ned Yost (Royals), Bob Melvin (Athletics) and Terry Francona (Indians) have been at their posts longer than Cash. This past offseason, he signed a contract extension through 2024 with a club option for 2025, and finished third in the BBWAA's 2018 AL Manager of the Year voting behind Melvin and Alex Cora (Red Sox).

- ◆ After enduring years of pranks from his former manager and boss, Indians Manager Terry Francona, Cash finally got his revenge last September in Cleveland...during Rays batting practice, he parked Tito's scooter on the field at shortstop, and the scooter sustained damage from a C.J. Cron line drive.
- ◆ Kevin is the only current major league manager to have played in the Little League World Series and one of five to play in the College World Series (Florida State), joining BOS Alex Cora (Miami, 1996), CLE Terry Francona (Arizona, 1980), OAK Bob Melvin (Cal, 1980) and DET Ron Gardenhire (Texas, 1979).

PACE OF GAME INITIATIVE

Quickening the pace of game continues to be a priority throughout Major League Baseball and Minor League Baseball in 2019. From 2017 to 2018, progress was made as the average time of game decreased from 3:05:11 to 3:00:44. The goal of the Commissioner's Office is to keep the flow of the typical game as consonant as possible with our society's rhythms and fans' expectations. The cooperation of players and ongoing communication about goals are vital to achieving meaningful progress. MLB has negotiated recent changes with the MLBPA.

- ◆ 2015: MLB put timers in ballparks to reduce the down time between innings and to conditionally require hitters to remain in the batter's box between pitches. Fines were issued to those who were in violation—and, for the first half of 2015, players largely adhered to the new rule, leading to a six-minute reduction in the average game time to 2:56. Hitters began to regress in the second half of 2015 as they became accustomed to the fines, and game times again were back over the 3:00 mark (3:00:42) by the end of in 2016.
- ◆ 2017: MLB implemented a no-pitch intentional walk, a 30-second limit for managers to invoke replay and a conditional two-minute guideline for Replay Officials to render a decision.
- ◆ 2018: MLB implemented a new limitation on visits to the pitcher's mound and closer tracking of the timings between inning breaks and pitching changes.

LET'S PLAY TWO!

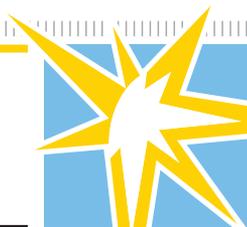

The Rays have played 27 doubleheaders in their history, going 4-12-11 (W-L-T). They are 1-2-5 in traditional doubleheaders and 3-10-6 in split doubleheaders. The four times they swept a doubleheader occurred on Sep 23, 2008 at BAL, April 28, 2011 at MIN, June 24, 2012 at PHI and May 1, 2014 at BOS.

Two of these doubleheaders occurred at Tropicana Field, both of them traditional, and both times they split the twin bill. The first, Sep 30, 2004 vs. DET, was a result of games rescheduled due to Hurricane Frances four weeks prior. They lost the first game, 8-0, and won the second, 6-4. On June 10, 2017 vs. OAK, they hosted Major League Baseball's first scheduled twin bill since July 16, 2011 (Angels at Athletics). They won the first game, 6-5, on a 10th-inning walk-off single by Evan Longoria. Forty minutes after the celebration, they began the next game, a 7-2 loss.

40-MAN ROSTER

The 2018 Rays went 41-25 (.621) after the All-Star break and 19-9 (.679) in September to finish at 90-72 (.556), their best record since 2013. They went 30-28 against the AL's five postseason clubs, including 21-11 (.656) from June 22 on. At home they were even more dangerous, tying for the 3rd-best record in the majors at 51-30 (.630), highlighted by nine walk-off wins and five walk-off homers. They achieved all this while deploying a club-record 54 players, 31 pitchers, 17 starting pitchers and 23 rookies.

- He grew up admiring fellow lefthander Dontrelle Willis and Venezuelan infielder Melvin Mora.

X-RAY REPORT

- He was never considered a highly-touted international prospect, instead signing with the Rays for $100,000 when he was 18 years old.
- Yonny's favorite player growing up was Yankees Hall of Fame closer Mariano Rivera.
- As a child, Yonny and his friends would play a game similar to baseball that replaced the ball and bat with chapitas, or bottle caps, and a broomstick.
- His favorite meals are arepas—baked cornmeal patties sometimes stuffed with cheese or meat—and chicken with rice.

2018 SEASON

- Totaled 18 apps (7 starts) over two stints with the Rays, his first career major league action...was on the major league roster from Opening Day–June 3—which included a stint on the disabled list—and June 24 through the end of the season.
- Went 5-2 with a 2.83 ERA (57.1-IP, 18-ER) and .233 opp avg. (48-for-206) in 11 apps out of the bullpen and 0-3 with a 4.73 ERA (32.1-IP, 17-ER) and .288 opp avg. (36-for-125) in 7 starts.
- Was 4-0 with a 2.89 ERA (37.1-IP, 12-ER) over his final 7 apps of the season, all in relief.

- Through the end of April, his 24 SO ranked 2nd among AL rookies behind LAA Shohei Ohtani

(26), and his 5 starts tied CWS Carson Fulmer for most among AL rookies.

- On April 5 at BOS, became the fifth Ray all-time to go at least 5 IP and not allow a run in his first career start, joining Matt Moore (5 IP) in 2011, Scott Kazmir (5 IP) in 2004, Doug Waechter (9 IP) in 2003 and Jason Standridge (6.1 IP) in 2001...joined Scott Kazmir (6 IP) in 2004 and Steve Trachsel (9 IP) as the only Rays with a scoreless outing of at least 5 IP in their first career game at Fenway Park...according to the Elias Sports Bureau, he was the first pitcher to make the first start of his career at Fenway Park and not allow a run in at least 5 IP since ATL Kyle Davies did it in his major league debut on May 21, 2005 (5 IP).
- Placed on the 10-day DL on May 1 with a right forearm strain, retroactive to April 29...was reinstated from the disabled list and optioned to Triple-A Durham on June 4...was on the minor league disabled list, June 22–July 7, with right shoulder inflammation.

- On Aug 9 vs. BAL, recorded his first career win, entering in the 3rd inning...allowed a 2-out single in the 3rd, then retired 10 straight batters before a 7th-inning solo homer to Renato Núñez, his only run allowed.

- ◆ On Sep 3 at TOR, went a career-high 7 IP, replacing Ryne Stanek to start the 2nd inning...his 7 IP tied a franchise record for a reliever, and his 3 GDP tied a club record for a reliever, joining Rob Bell on June 19, 2004 at ARI.
- ◆ Went 0-2 with a 5.28 ERA in 8 starts with Durham...made his first 2 starts there on rehab assignment, then another 6 starts following his option...also made a start with Class-A Charlotte, beginning his major league rehab assignment with the Stone Crabs.

- Despite not spending the full 2018 campaign with the Rays, Ji-Man wasted no time in winning over his teammates...Manager Kevin Cash: "He's a piece of work. Great one-liners. He takes a lot of jokes in stride. And he dishes it really well. He's definitely done a good job of keeping the dugout loose." ...Kevin Kiermaier: "He's hilarious. He knows how to talk trash, all the bad words. And he talks Spanish, too, just as much Spanish as English."
- Ji-Man is one of six active major leaguers born in South Korea.

X-RAY REPORT

- While Brent missed the 2018 season recovering from Tommy John surgery, he sat in the dugout of Class-A Charlotte games as often as his rehab schedule permitted...former Rays and Tommy John veterans Nathan Eovaldi and Jonny Venters provided fantastic insight and encouragement during the recovery process.
- He eats, breathes and sleeps pitching...he loves to watch Max Scherzer, Blake Snell and Corey Kluber pitch and is "pumped" to work with Charlie Morton this season and soak in all the knowledge he can.
- Brent graduated from Franklin County High School in Royston, Ga. ...when he makes his debut, the school will have produced two major leaguers: Brent and Ty Cobb.
- His father, Brent Sr., played for three seasons in the Pirates minor league system...Brent Sr. pitched for Saint Leo University under coach Mike Marshall, who won the Cy Young Award as a reliever with the Dodgers in 1974...his father learned how to throw a screwball from Marshall and passed it on to Brent.
- Growing up, Brent threw bullpen sessions to his father three times a week...on one Friday evening in 10th grade, Brent Sr. simply refused to catch him and said: "If you don't have it figured out by now, you're in trouble"...this was a turning point in his development as a pitcher and forced him to improve by stepping out of his comfort zone.

- Exited a live batting practice session in spring training with right forearm tightness, later diagnosed as a torn ulnar collateral ligament...underwent Tommy John surgery on Feb 27, performed by Dr. James Andrews in Pensacola, Fla.

X-RAY REPORT

- ◆ Kevin and his wife, Marisa, welcomed their first child, Karter James, on Nov 12.
- ◆ Besides the birth of his son, the highlight of his offseason was catching a 38-pound carp while bowfishing with his brother, Steve, in Indiana, just five pounds off the state record...they named the fish "Bruiser"...the catch was made from his new custom boat, christened "Outlaw Bowfishing," or just "The OB" for short.
- ◆ He participated in Mychal Givens' charity Blitzball tournament this winter, a game similar to Wiffle ball featuring a plastic ball with exaggerated movement...he was teammates with former Rays outfielder Mallex Smith...Kevin joked he was happy just to put the ball in play from 40 feet away thanks to the skill of the kids pitching.
- ◆ After Kevin injured his right thumb, he found a way to satisfy his baseball craving by shagging fly balls during batting practice...he'd catch the ball with his glove on his hand, drop the glove and throw the ball back left-handed.
- ◆ He worked out with Tyler Glasnow, Ryan Yarbrough and Ryne Stanek at Diesel Fitness in Tampa this offseason...he also regularly worked out with Ozzie Timmons at the University of Tampa, instructing college players on outfield defense and base stealing.
- ◆ Kevin maintains his claim as "Tampa's most dedicated Purdue fan"...after two All-American seasons in junior college, he originally signed a letter of intent to play for the Boilermakers before signing with the Rays.

- ◆ His older brother, Dan, was promoted to assistant head groundskeeper for the Cubs ahead of the 2018 season.

2018 SEASON

- ◆ Was limited to a career-low 88 games, missing significant time for a third consecutive season... missed 57 games with a torn ligament in his right thumb, April 16-June 18...was transferred to the 60-day DL on April 17.
- ◆ Despite the missed time, ranked 3rd in the AL with 9 3B, one shy of Mallex Smith and CWS Yolmer Sánchez.
- ◆ Appeared in 88 games and made 86 starts, all in center field, including 22 starts against lefties.
- ◆ Won his second Wilson Defensive Player of the Year Award in center field (also 2016)...despite his missed time, his 14 Defensive Runs Saved in center field ranked 3rd in the majors to MIL Lorenzo Cain (20) and ATL Ender Inciarte (17).
- ◆ Made his fourth consecutive Opening Day roster, all starts in center field, most in club history, breaking a tie with Desmond Jennings and B.J. Upton...on the first pitch on Opening Day vs. BOS, caught a fly ball in left-center off the bat of Mookie Betts...he was awarded a "5-Star Catch," defined as any ball caught with a 0-to-25 pct. catch probability, from StatCast...he covered 129 feet in 6.3 seconds, and the play was given a 6 pct. catch probability.
- ◆ His first 34 starts after returning from the 60-day DL came at leadoff, but he hit just .196/.270/.343 (28-for-143) over that stretch...moved down in the order for his final 40 starts, beginning Aug 5, and hit .253/.304/.438 (37-for-146) through the remainder of the season.

- ◆ On June 25 vs. WAS, tied his career high with 4 RBI on the second grand slam of his career, off Gio Gonzalez in the 2nd inning...was his first homer since Sep 24, 2017 at BAL and the first grand slam hit by a Ray at Tropicana Field since Colby Rasmus on May 10, 2017 vs. KC... was the first time a Rays lefty hit a grand slam off a left-handed pitcher since Matt Joyce on May 25, 2012 at BOS...it was the fourth time in club history the Rays got a grand slam from their leadoff hitter.
- ◆ Suffered a hairline fracture in his right foot on Sep 26 vs. NYY...was hit by pitch in the 1st inning and left the game in the 4th...missed the final 4 games...was hitless in his last 17 AB of the season.

- ◆ Brandon discovered his key to success while in the minor leagues, which he shared with the Tampa Bay Times... "A big thing has been eating applesauce. When I got to Durham, I was struggling and they had those GoGo squeezes in the fridge and I was like, 'Ah, applesauce. I haven't had a lot of fruits lately.' Had one, ended up hitting a home run. X-RAY REPORT

- Andrew spends his free time playing video games and reading...this offseason, 11/22/63 by Stephen King was among his favorites.
- He played with Matt Boyd, Michael Conforto, Jace Fry and Tyler Smith at Oregon State...he remembers facing Kris Bryant twice, once striking him out on a slider in the dirt and the next time inducing a fly ball to the warning track.
- Andrew played with Team USA as a sophomore in college, where he faced off against now-Rays teammate Guillermo Heredia, who was with Team Cuba at the time...when the two were together a few years later in Double-A, Heredia told him in Spanish he remembered him because of his hair.
- Hiking and nature were a big part of his life growing up in the Pacific Northwest.
- Andrew's uncle coached football at the University of Oregon, and he grew up near the campus in Eugene, Ore., as a big Ducks fan...he felt sure he would play there when they added a baseball program while he was in middle school, but ended up at rival Oregon State instead.
- He grew up a Giants fan and always looked up to Tim Lincecum, watching as many of his starts as he could...Andrew met him last offseason... he also grew up watching Félix Hernández and then later enjoyed being his teammate, as Félix was always willing to share knowledge.

X-RAY REPORT

- ◆ Tommy was raised by his working-class mother, Tawana Polk, and was the first Vietnamese-American to play in a major league game since 2006...he told Sports Illustrated in early 2018, "I'm from a background where my mom kept it so real. My mom would be like, 'Man, look, I don't have no money to get you nothing for Christmas, I don't have no money to get you nothing for your birthday. I'm sorry. I gotta pay the bills'...All that fake s---, man, I was never raised like that."
- ◆ Afflicted by keratoconus, a disease of the cornea, Tommy's vision and career were in jeopardy...the condition was discovered after poor vision was suspected to be at the root of his struggles in the minors...he underwent a radical new procedure in 2011... "Miracle, I think, is the best term to describe him," said Dr. Brian Boxer Wachler, one of his specialists...he is now an ambassador for the National Keratoconus Foundation and often answers questions on social media based on his experience with the condition.
- ◆ "I've always been different," Tommy says...he believes full devolution is required to be great... "I just want to be able to say that when I leave the game, I gave everything I have to be the best me."
- ◆ Tommy's favorite rapper is Fabolous, but he used Jeezy's music as his walk-up last season because it was the rapper's final year before retirement.
- ◆ He spent some of his offseason free time binge-watching shows such as Gotham and Narcos on Netflix.
- ◆ The highlight of his offseason was an ATV tour in Colombia...he and fellow major leaguers Tim Beckham, Mallex Smith and Billy Hamilton took a three-hour tour of Medellín, getting an up-close look at nearby mountains, creeks, farmlands and the city.

- ◆ Tommy spent the offseason training in Miami, where he's spent the last two winters.

2018 SEASON

- ◆ Was acquired from the Cardinals at the non-waiver trade deadline and appeared in 39 games, all starts (35-LF, 2-CF, 2-DH), for the Rays.
- ◆ His .343 avg. with the Rays was higher than any other player traded in the week leading up to the non-waiver trade deadline.
- ◆ The Rays went 27-12 (.692) with him in the starting lineup...they went 5-6 when he was on the 10-day DL, Aug 3-15, with a right foot fracture.
- ◆ Combined to score a career-high 102 runs between the Cardinals (67) and Rays (35)...only four other players in baseball matched his combination of runs, home runs (21) and stolen bases (15): BOS Mookie Betts, CLE Francisco Lindor, CLE José Ramírez and MIL Christian Yelich.

on-base streak by a Ray since Evan Longoria (34) spanning 2012-13 and was the longest single-season on-base streak by a Ray since Johnny Damon's club-record 39-game stretch in 2011.

- Recorded a career-long 17-game hitting streak from Aug 21-Sep 14, batting .391 (27-for-69) over that span...tied for the 4th-longest streak in club history and was two shy of tying the club record.

- Hit 6 3B, all coming in September in just 26 games played...prior to that, hit only 2 3B in 248 career games...was the most triples by any player in a calendar month since ARI David Peralta (6) in July 2015...established a club record for triples in September...the only Ray to record 6 3B in any month previously was Carl Crawford (6 in July 2006, 8 in July 2004).
- Recorded 5 2B, 6 3B and 5 HR in September, becoming only the third AL player in the DH era with at least 5 2B, 5 3B and 5 HR in any calendar month...joined Hall of Famers CWS Harold Baines in August 1984 and KC George Brett in August 1977...became the first player in either league to do this in September since PHI Dick Allen in 1964.

X-RAY REPORT

- ◆ Austin and his wife, Danielle, are expecting their first child, a girl, on March 9...the two are new homeowners as of Dec 21 and spent the second half of the offseason fixing it up...they traveled from Texas to California and Montana this offseason.
- ◆ Austin owns a five-year-old husky named Dexter...Dexter was the first thing Austin bought with his signing bonus.
- ◆ Teammates describe him as a "sneaky good" golfer...Ryne Stanek says Austin golfs, and approaches life in general, like he pitches—with an even keel.
- ◆ Austin and Danielle were married at the Stonegate Mansion in Fort Worth, Texas...the home was built by oil magnate T. Cullen Davis in the 1970s and was the site of an unsolved double homicide just a few years later—a detail that eluded Austin until after the wedding.
- ◆ His father, Gary, drives from Houston to watch him pitch...he drove to Charlotte for the 2016 Triple-A All Star Game and Fort Myers for Austin's start in the 2017 spring training opener...in 2017, he also made the drive to St. Petersburg for Opening Day and the 1,600-mile trip to New York for his start at Yankee Stadium.

- ◆ Made 23 apps over five stints with the Rays (Opening Day–April 25, May 13–June 21, June 25–July 3, July 26–Aug 3 and Sep 20 through season's end)...his final recall came after making 3 apps (2 starts) in the International League postseason, helping Triple-A Durham win the Governors' Cup title.

- ◆ Went at least 2 IP in 19 of his 23 apps...made 11 relief apps of at least 3 IP, tied with teammate Yonny Chirinos for 2nd-most in the majors behind teammate Ryan Yarbrough (23)...his 6 relief apps of at least 4 IP and 5 relief apps of at least 5 IP were both 3rd in the majors.
- ◆ Recorded 4 saves, including 3 saves of the 3 IP (or more) variety...has 4 saves in his career of this type, tied with Matt Andriese for most in club history.
- ◆ Originally was optioned to Durham on March 25, but was recalled before the season to replace Nathan Eovaldi (10-day DL) on the active roster, his second Opening Day roster.
- ◆ On Opening Day vs. BOS, did not allow a run in 2 IP and recorded the win after the Rays 6-run 8th inning...became the fifth reliever in club history with an Opening Day win and first since Fernando Rodney in 2012.
- ◆ On April 7 at BOS, did not allow a run in 4.1 IP, the longest scoreless relief app by a Ray since Álex Torres (5 IP) on Sep 24, 2011 vs. TOR and longest at Fenway Park since John Halama on April 29, 2004 (G2).
- ◆ On April 11 at CWS, was charged with a blown save and a loss after allowing a 2-run, go-ahead homer to Matt Davidson in the 8th inning.
- ◆ On May 27 vs. BAL, went 5.2 IP for the second save of his career...it was the longest app ending with a save in franchise history...previous mark was 4 IP, 4x-last Matt Andriese on May 14, 2015 vs. NYY...since the save became an official statistic in 1969, it was only the fourth time a pitcher went at least 5.2 IP and recorded a save, following TEX Joaquin Benoit on Sep 3, 2002 at BAL (7 IP), TEX Horacio Pina on April 23, 1972 vs.

CAL (6 IP) and OAK Bob Locker on Aug 12, 1970 vs. CLE (5.2 IP).

- ◆ From May 22–June 7, went at least 5 IP in four consecutive relief apps, the first pitcher to do that (without a start in between) since PIT Bill Swift (4) from May 19-30, 1939...on June 7 vs. SEA, went 7 IP to match the longest outing for a reliever in franchise history.

X-RAY REPORT

- ◆ Growing up in nearby Upland, Calif., Daniel attended Angels games with his late father, Don, as a kid...when the Rays visited Anaheim last season, hundreds of his friends and family were on hand to witness him blast the first grand slam of his career...“When I swung, it was like something took over my body. It was the weirdest thing. I feel my dad’s presence out here all the time.”
- ◆ Robertson delivered another grand slam, the first walk-off slam in Rays history, last year on July 22, but made national news for what he did after the game was over...with his postgame obligations finished, he drove to Johns Hopkins All Children’s Hospital in St. Petersburg to visit 15-year-old Joey Johnston...Johnston, the son of a local sportswriter, had suffered a broken neck and back in an earlier accident...“I did that for you, bud,” Robertson told him...he homered again the next night, and pointed to a bracelet he was wearing in Joey’s honor.
- ◆ In January, the Daniel Robertson Family Foundation hosted its third annual Mini Fan Fest at his training facility, PFA, in Upland, Calif...the event raises money to support families affected by cancer and attracted more than 400 fans...friends and teammates such as Albert Pujols, Matt Davidson, Jake Faria and Jake Bauers appeared at the event...proceeds nearly doubled last year’s $10,000 raised.
- ◆ When Daniel was informed he made his first Opening Day roster in 2017, he found a quiet place to play a saved voicemail from his father, Don, who passed away with lung cancer in September 2013...in the voicemail, his father relayed how proud he was of his son at the time...Don’s encouragement—“believe you belong”—is now tattooed on Daniel’s arm.

- ◆ Daniel enjoys wine tastings, comedy clubs and trying new restaurants.
- ◆ Daniel’s mother, Julie, survived the Las Vegas shooting in October 2017...she and her friend were originally close to the concert stage but moved back to get a water behind Jason Aldean performed...Daniel got word of her safety when she called from a hiding spot behind a slot machine in a nearby casino.

X-RAY REPORT

- Chaz's deceptively grim appearance has earned him some good-natured ribbing by teammates over the years...then-Orioles teammate Zack Britton said he increased their bullpen's intimidation factor "exponentially"...while with Arizona, he was approached by Willie Bloomquist, who said, "A.J. [Pollock] wants to know, but he's too scared to ask you himself. Have you ever been in jail or killed anybody?"... it was the third time Roe had been asked something similar since his call-up.
- A video clip of Roe's Wiffle-like slider went viral on social media during spring training last year, gaining more than a million views across multiple platforms.
- Roe's first name came from a former football teammate of his father's named Chaz Czack...his brother's name is Czack (pronounced "Zack").
- His father, Donald, played football at the University of Kentucky and once made a solo tackle against running back Herschel Walker... Donald played high school football and baseball against Rays bullpen coach Stan Boroski...once a year, Donald would pull Chaz out of school to go on a fishing trip.
- His mother, Kelly, describes him as a "mama's boy," saying he texts her often to check in.
- Chaz grew up a Pittsburgh sports fan...his great uncle is Hall of Famer Bill Mazeroski.
- His professional career also includes a 2012 detour with the Laredo Lemurs in independent ball...his time in Laredo renewed his love of the game and reminded him to have fun, like he did in high school...the Rays are his 10th major league organization since being selected in the 2005 June Draft.

- In 2014, Chaz met Michael Jordan at Yankee Stadium and took a photo with him...he was with the Yankees at the time and Jordan was there for one of Derek Jeter's final games.
- Chaz and his wife, Sarah, have two daughters: Mila (5) and Taylin (3).

2018 SEASON

- In the 9th inning on April 30 at DET, went 0.1 IP and allowed a hit and 2 HBP, the first app of his career with 2 HBP...it was the first time in franchise history a pitcher went 0.1 IP or fewer with 2 HBP...was charged 2 runs on a single by Victor Martinez, allowed by José Alvarado...the Rays held on to win, 3-2.
- On June 9 vs. SEA, inherited 2-on, 2-out in the 8th inning and induced a Jean Segura groundout to end the inning...faced the minimum in the 9th inning, erasing a leadoff single with a 1-4-3 double play for his first career save in the majors, coming in his 132nd app.

- ◆ On June 17 at NYY, recorded his first win since Sep 12, 2016 vs. MIA (with ATL), making 51 apps in between.

X-RAY REPORT

- Joey was honored by the Philadelphia Sports Writers Association (PSWA) with its Native Son Award...previous winners include Mike Piazza, the NBA's Kyle Lowry and U.S. women's soccer standout Carli Lloyd...Joey had the chance to sit next to Jayson Stark and talk baseball at the awards dinner.
- When an MLB Network graphic mistakenly listed Joey's last name as 'Mendle,' he embraced it by making it his Players' Weekend nickname.
- Manager Kevin Cash is quick to praise Joey's blue-collar approach to the game, saying, "The effort is just tremendous. Every ground ball to the pitcher, every ground ball to first and every ground ball in the gap, he's 100 miles an hour out of the box."
- Joey is involved with Fellowship of Christian Athletes and has had many opportunities to speak with younger athletes...he has been involved with FCA since high school.
- He enjoys deer hunting and spent a lot of "mostly unsuccessful" time in the woods this offseason...his brothers got him interested in it as a way to spend time together and enjoy the outdoors.
- Joey and his wife, Lindsey, welcomed their first child, Jack Joseph, on May 22 last season.
- Joey received his bachelor's degree in prephysical therapy at West Chester (Pa.) University and was named first team CoSIDA Academic All-America in 2012...prior to being drafted by the Indians, he planned to attend school for physical therapy and had gone as far as applying to a handful of programs...it's still a goal he'd like to pursue after baseball.

- Growing up in eastern Pennsylvania, he supported the Phillies and his favorite players were Scott Rolen and Chase Utley.
- With the Athletics organization, he met Rickey Henderson when the Hall of Famer visited Triple-A Nashville...Rickey joined in the clubhouse card game.

NON-ROSTER INVITES

Newly appointed major league field coordinator Paul Hoover was a five-time non-roster invite to Rays spring training (1998, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2005). Originally selected as an infielder in the 1997 June Draft, he accepted a challenge from then-field coordinator Tom Foley to give catching a try in January 1998, and the position change stuck. Hoover went on to play parts of two seasons with Tampa Bay and parts of seven years in the majors with the Rays (2001-02), Marlins (2006-08) and Phillies (2009-10).

ALL-STAR GAMES

The 2019 All-Star Game will be held on Tuesday, July 9 at Progressive Field in Cleveland. It is the sixth time the Indians have hosted the Midsummer Classic, most of any team, and second time at Progressive Field (1997). The Rays are the only current club yet to host one.

As of 2018, there will be no ESPN Sunday Night Baseball game on the Sunday before the All-Star Game, as stipulated in the latest update to the Collective Bargaining Agreement. On Thursday, July 11, the Astros will visit the Rangers with the other 28 clubs resuming play on Friday. Prior to 2018, the baseball schedule was clear the Thursday following the All-Star Game.

The 2020 All-Star Game will be played at Dodger Stadium in Los Angeles.

ROBERTO CLEMENTE AWARD

Since 1971, Major League Baseball has annually presented an award that recognizes a player who best exemplifies the game of baseball through sportsmanship, community involvement and positive contributions to his team.

In 1973, following the tragic death of Roberto Clemente, the award was named to honor the man whose spirit and goodwill will always be remembered. The 12-time All-Star and Hall of Famer was killed in a plane crash in 1972 delivering food and medical supplies to earthquake victims of Nicaragua. The award recognizes those individuals who truly understand the value of helping others.

A panel of baseball dignitaries, including Vera Clemente and Commissioner Rob Manfred, annually selects the winner from a list of 30 candidates, one from each major league club. These local winners are announced in September on Roberto Clemente Day. The winner of the national Roberto Clemente Award is announced during a pregame ceremony at the World Series. Past winners include Edgar Martínez, Jamie Moyer, Jim Thome, Derek Jeter, Curt Schilling, Al Leiter, Tony Gwynn, Willie Mays, Ozzie Smith and Cal Ripken Jr. The Rays were represented on the ballot by Mallex Smith in 2018.

ALL-STAR BALLOTING

Since the first All-Star Game in 1933, selection of the All-Stars has shifted on several occasions between fans, players and managers. In 1933-34, selection of the All-Star teams was up to the fans, who could vote for All-Stars through newspaper ads featuring official ballots.

From 1935-46, each league's eight managers selected the participants while the All-Star Team managers chose the starters. Balloting for the starting lineups, tabulated by the Associated Press, was returned to the fans from 1947-57. However, a case of ballot-stuffing by Cincinnati fans in 1957 prompted Commissioner Ford Frick to make player selection the privilege of managers, players and coaches from 1958-69.

Commissioner Bowie Kuhn returned voting to the fans in 1970. Since then, All-Star fan balloting has developed into the largest voter participation program in the U.S. outside of state and national elections.

Under the current format, major league players elect a reserve for each position as well as five starting pitchers and three relievers. Each All-Star manager selects the starting pitcher from among those pitchers already named to the team. Major League Baseball selects more players to fill out each roster to 31 players, while ensuring that each team has at least one representative. The Commissioner's Office then selects a list of five nominees for the fans to choose from for the final (32nd) roster spot for each league's team. The Final Man Vote began in 2002.

RAYS & MLB VISIT CUBA

On March 20-22, 2016, the Rays traveled to Havana, Cuba, after being selected via lottery to be the first Major League Baseball team to visit Cuba since the 1999 Orioles. The voyage coincided with the historic diplomatic visit of President Barack Obama, the first sitting U.S. President to visit Cuba since Calvin Coolidge in 1928. Among the 55,000 in attendance at Estadio Latinoamericano for the March 21 contest were many dignitaries, including President Obama and the First Lady, Cuban President Raúl Castro, Cuban-born stars Luis Tiant and José Cardenal, MLB Commissioner Rob Manfred, Derek Jeter and Joe Torre. The Rays defeated the Cuban National Team, 4-1.

There were 17 Cuban-born players on 2018 Opening Day rosters, the 5th-most of any country behind the U.S., Dominican Republic, Venezuela and Puerto Rico. The Rays have had 10 Cuban-born players in franchise history, and INF Yandy Díaz and OF Guillermo Heredia have a chance to join this group.

RECORDS & HISTORY

Last August, the Rays hosted a 10-year reunion of the 2008 American League Championship club. Attending the celebration weekend were 20 players, three coaches, Soot Zimmer and members of the support staff. Aki Iwamura, who recorded the final out of the 2008 ALCS, delivered a ceremonial first pitch to Team MVP (and double play partner) Jason Bartlett. Iwamura, whose commemorative bobblehead was distributed to fans, traveled 24 hours and 7,500 miles from Japan to be there.

TRIPLE PLAYS

The Rays have pulled off three triple plays in club history. The most recent came Sep 27, 2011 vs. NYY when Russell Martin grounded into a 5-4-3 triple play (Evan Longoria to Ben Zobrist to Sean Rodríguez).

On Sep 2, 2006 vs. SEA, the Rays pulled off their second triple play, the first at Tropicana Field, in the top of the 1st inning. With runners on first and third, J.P. Howell threw a strike on a 3-2 count to Raul Ibañez for the first out. Catcher Dioner Navarro threw the ball to shortstop Ben Zobrist to get Adrián Beltré, who was running from first on the pitch. Zobrist then threw back to Navarro to nail José López as he tried to score from third to complete the triple play. It was the first 2-6-2 triple play in major league history.

On Sep 13, 2002 at TOR, the Rays executed the first triple play in club history (L-4-6-3) with Dewon Brazelton on the mound in his major league debut.

Rays opponents have also turned three triple plays, and Sean Rodríguez was the batter in the two most recent. Both of Rodríguez's were of the 5-4-3 variety—April 17, 2014 vs. NYY and Aug 16, 2011 at BOS—making him the first player to hit into a pair of triple plays since ATL Chipper Jones (2007, 1996) and before that, SD Tony Gwynn (1995, 1991). In 2011, Rodríguez became the first player since STL Gregg Jefferies in 1993 to hit into a triple play and participate in one defensively in the same season.

On June 11, 2006 at KC, the Royals turned a 8-1-6-5 triple play when Russell Bryanan's apparent sacrifice fly was nullified upon appeal, when it was ruled that Aubrey Huff had left third base early on the tag-up. Rocco Baldelli was also caught on the play trying to advance from first to second base.

SPLASH DOWN

Since the Rays Touch Tank opened in 2006 in right-center field, 6 HR have been hit into the water. Only two of those 6 HR were by Rays players: José Lobatón hit a walk-off solo homer in the 9th inning of Game 3 of the ALDS vs. Boston (Koji Uehara) to save the Rays from elimination, and Brad Miller did it against the Yankees on July 31, 2016.

SPECIAL SEATS

Fans at Tropicana Field will notice two golden seats, one white seat and one seat memorialized with a plaque in the right field seating area. The golden seat in the third row of Section 148 is the location where the Rays first home run landed, a two-run shot hit by Wade Boggs off DET Justin Thompson in the 6th inning of the Rays inaugural game on March 31, 1998. The other golden seat, in Section 144, marks the spot where Boggs' 3,000th hit landed, a two-run home run off CLE Chris Haney on Aug 7, 1999. The white seat in Section 140 (Row T, Seat 10) marks the spot where Dan Johnson's two-out, 9th-inning, game-tying home run landed against the Yankees in Game 162 of the 2011 season. Three innings later, Evan Longoria hit a walk-off homer to left field giving the Rays an 8-7 win, clinching the AL Wild Card.

Finally, on July 11, 2015, the Rays dedicated a special seat above the right field walkway that will always remain empty in remembrance of prisoners of war (POW) and those missing in action (MIA). President of baseball operations Matt Silverman and pitcher Matt Moore joined World War II veteran and former POW Andrew H. Hines Jr. and Rep. David Jolly of the 13th Congressional District in the pregame ceremony.

JUNE 19, 1996

DEVIL RAYS INAUGURAL GAME

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA. – Hall of Famers Ted Williams, Stan Musial, Al Lopez and Monte Irvin threw out the ceremonial first pitches and minutes later, at 5:08 p.m. on March 31, 1998, major league baseball was born in Tampa Bay as Wilson Álvarez delivered a ball to Tigers leadoff hitter Brian Hunter. Álvarez retired the Tigers 1-2-3 in the first inning, then nine of the next 13 batters hit safely. The Rays fell behind 11-0 in the 5th inning before Wade Boggs hit a two-run homer off Justin Thompson in the 6th to account for the first two runs in Rays history. The Devil Rays rallied for four runs in the 9th inning and left the tying run in the on-deck circle when Paul Sorrento struck out to end the game. Tampa native Luis Gonzalez hit the first home run at Tropicana Field and added a single and double.

100 YEARS OF MLB IN ST. PETERSBURG

T

HIS SEASON MARKS THE 100TH YEAR MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL HAS HAD A PRESENCE IN ST. PETERSBURG, DATING BACK TO 1914 WHEN THE ST. LOUIS BROWNS OPENED SPRING TRAINING WORKOUTS.

MLB has also had a presence in St. Pete every year since travel restrictions during World War II prohibited teams from traveling south for spring training from 1943-45.

Nine teams have trained in St. Petersburg: the St. Louis Browns (1914), Philadelphia Phillies (1915-18), Boston Braves (1922-37), New York Yankees (1925-42; 1946-50; 1952-61), St. Louis Cardinals (1938-42; 1946-97), New York Giants (1951), New York Mets (1962-87), Baltimore Orioles (1993-95) and the Devil Rays/Rays (1998-2008).

In 1910, a former Pittsburgh laundry owner named Al Lang moved to St. Petersburg to benefit his health. He soon became interested in the local economy and focused on trying to help the sagging tourism industry. As a baseball fan, he believed the answer was to attract a major league team for spring training.

Lang convinced the St. Louis Browns, under manager Branch Rickey, to move to St. Petersburg in 1914. A baseball committee, formed to attract a major league team to the city, raised $20,000 to buy a large tract of land for a ballpark. The site chosen for the field was Coffee Pot Bayou in St. Pete, where a 2,000-seat grandstand was built.

The first game between two major league teams in St. Petersburg took place on March 27, 1914 as the Grapefruit League was established. The Browns hosted the Chicago Cubs, who were training in Tampa and made the trip by steamboat across Tampa Bay. The Cubs won, 3-2. James Leslie (Hippo) Vaughn was the winning pitcher for the Cubs as an estimated 4,000 looked on.

The resourceful Lang helped engineer a new ballpark, Waterfront Park—located at the approximate site where the parking lot for Al Lang Field is today—and a new arrival, the Boston Braves, christened the new park in 1922. The Yankees joined the Braves in St. Pete in 1925. They would remain for all but four years until 1962, when Casey Stengel and the expansion New York Mets moved in and the Yankees went to Fort Lauderdale.

When the Boston Braves left for Bradenton in 1937, the St. Louis Cardinals came to St. Petersburg the following year and would stay 57 of the next 60 years, missing only the war years.

Minor league baseball in the city began in 1920 as the St. Pete Saints entered the Florida State League.

There was one other professional league in St. Petersburg prior to the Rays arrival in 1998. The Senior Professional Baseball Association—a league of former major leaguers who were 35 years of age or older—sprang up for one season, 1989-90. The St. Pete Pelicans were the first and only league champions.

POSTSEASON THE HARD WAY

With a 5-2 win at Texas in a Game 163 tiebreaker on Sep 30, the Rays became the 14th team to enter the post-season via a tiebreaker and only the second in the Wild Card era (since 1995) to win a tiebreaker game on the road (also 1999 Mets)...road teams had been 1-5 previously... the Rays advanced to the ALDS by winning 3 games in which they would have been eliminated had they lost—all over a four-day span in three different cities... in Game 162 on Sep 29 at TOR, the Rays snapped a 2-game losing streak to avoid being passed by Texas in the standings...the Rays snapped the Rangers 7-game win streak on Sep 30 at TEX in Game 163 and the Indians 10-game win streak in the AL Wild Card game on Oct 2 at CLE...the Rays advanced to the postseason for the fourth time in their history, all coming in a six-season span from 2008-13.

The Rays blanked the Indians, 4-0, in the AL Wild Card Game behind Alex Cobb, Joel Peralta, Jake McGee and Fernando Rodney...it was the Indians 44th postseason home game in their history, but only the second time they were shut out...the Rays snapped the Indians 10-game winning streak (covering regular/postseason)...earlier in the season, the Rays snapped Toronto's 10-game streak...according to the Elias Sports Bureau, the Rays became the first team to snap two 10-game winning streaks (or longer) in one season since the 2006 Rockies (Dodgers-11, Athletics-10).

ICE CREAM MAN

In the Rays 5-4 win in Game 3 of the ALDS, catcher José Lobaton became just the 13th player to hit a walk-off home run in a postseason elimination game...he was the first AL player to do it since BOS David Ortiz in Game 4 of the 2004 ALCS vs. NYY... Lobaton, known for eating ice cream after hitting a home run, also became just the third player to hit a walk-off home run to avoid being swept in a postseason series...he joined Ortiz in 2004 and BOS Trot Nixon in Game 3 of 2003 ALDS vs. OAK.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

In Game 3 of the ALDS, Evan Longoria homered on his 28th birthday, becoming the second player in major league history to hit a postseason homer on his birthday...he followed KC Willie Mays Aikens, who hit 2 HR in Game 1 of the 1980 World Series.

NINE FOR NINE

In the Rays 3-1 loss in Game 4 of the ALDS, Rays Manager Joe Maddon used nine pitchers, a major league postseason record for a 9-inning game...it also remains the most pitchers the Rays have ever used in any 9-inning game.

2011 RAYS POSTSEASON REVIEW

THIRD TIME IN FOUR YEARS

The Rays advanced to the postseason for the third time in a span of four seasons (2008-11), first time as the AL Wild Card...during that span only two other teams made as many postseason appearances: Phillies (4) and Yankees (3)...the Rays became the third major league team and first AL team to advance to the postseason after starting the season 0-6, and just the second major league team to advance to the postseason after starting 1-8...the 1995 Reds won the NL Central after starting 0-6 and 1-8, and the 1974 Pirates won the NL East after starting 0-6.

HISTORIC COMEBACK

The Rays became the first team in major league history to be at least 9.0 GB of a playoff berth in September and make the postseason...the Rays were 9.0 GB of playoff contention on Sep 3...the 2011 World Series champion Cardinals were 8.5 GB on Sep 5...the Rays were 16-8 and the Red Sox were 6-18 over the last 24 games of the regular season, starting Sep 4.

RAYS vs. RANGERS, PART II

For the second year in a row, the Rays lost to the Rangers in the ALDS...the Rays actually outscored the Rangers, 21-16, but lost the series 3-1...in these two series, the visiting teams went 8-1...the Rays went 3-1 with 26 runs and 21 XBH at Texas, but 0-5 with 8 runs and 8 XBH at home.

MATT MOORE

At 22 years, 104 days, Matt Moore became the youngest starting pitcher ever to win his team's first game of the postseason...previously that mark was held by CIN Gary Nolan (22 years, 129 days) in the 1970 NLCS...Moore did not allow a run in 7 IP in the Rays 9-0 win over the Rangers in Game 1 of the ALDS at TEX...he allowed 2 hits, 2 BB and recorded 6 SO while throwing 98 pitches.

♦ Moore became the fifth rookie starter to win his team's first game of the postseason and the first to do it since NYY Jim Beattie in Game 1 of the 1978 ALCS over the Royals...he also became the first rookie in major league history to go at least 7 IP and allow no runs and 2 hits or fewer in a postseason game...he remains the 2nd-youngest pitcher to ever do that, behind NYY Waite Hoyt (22 years, 27 days) in Game 2 of the 1921 World Series vs. the New York Giants.

2010 RAYS POSTSEASON REVIEW

2010 POSTSEASON

The Rays won the AL East for the second time in three years...after the current divisional format was adopted in 1994, the Rays became the first team other than the Yankees to win two AL East championships in a full 162-game season...with 96 wins, the Rays led the AL in wins for the first time and finished 2nd in the majors to the Phillies (97)...in addition, the Rays became:

- ♦ The first team in major league history to endure 10 straight losing seasons, then make the postseason two of the next three seasons.
- ♦ The first team to average 90-plus wins over three consecutive seasons after 10 straight losing seasons.
- ♦ The fourth team to average 90-plus wins over three seasons after averaging 90-plus losses the three previous seasons, joining the 1988-93 Atlanta Braves, 1975-80 Brewers and 1996-2001 Athletics.

RANGERS DEFEAT RAYS IN ALDS

For the first time in major league history, the road team won every game of a postseason series...the Rangers became the first team in history to win three road games in any 5-game postseason series...it was the first ALDS to reach 5 games in five years—since the Angels won at home over the Yankees in 2005.

- ♦ The Rays became just the third out of five major league teams in a best-of-five series to force a Game 5 after losing the first two games of the series at home...the 1981 Brewers (vs. New York) and 2001 Yankees (vs. Oakland) did it before them...a division series was necessary in 1981 due to the split season...the 2012 Giants and 2015 Blue Jays have done it in recent years.
- ♦ The Rays became just the 11th out of 15 teams to force a Game 5 in 5-game series after losing the first two games (home or road)...the Rays were the first team since the 1981 Brewers to force a Game 5 after an 0-2 start and lose Game 5.

DAVID PRICE AND CLIFF LEE

David Price had 14 SO and 0 BB in the series, and Lee had 21 SO and 0 BB...no pitchers in baseball history have totaled more strikeouts without allowing a walk in a postseason series than Lee and Price...ATL Kevin Millwood (2002 NLDS) and CLE Andrew Miller (2016 ALCS) have tied Price's mark.

2008 RAYS POSTSEASON REVIEW

2008 POSTSEASON

Only one team in major league history lost more games than the Rays (96) the year before going to the World Series: the 1991 Braves, who were 65-97...the Rays were the second team in major league history and the fifth team in the four major sports to advance to its league's championship series the year after having the worst record in the league...the others to do that: 1991 Braves, 1958-59 Minneapolis Lakers, 1949-50 New York Rangers and 1958-59 Toronto Maple Leafs.

RAYS SET A.L. POSTSEASON HOMER MARK

The Rays hit 26 HR in 16 games in the postseason, an AL record at the time... the previous record was 24, by the Angels in 2002...that mark remains one shy of the major league record, shared by the 2017 Astros and 2002 Giants...the Rays had 10 different players homer.

- ♦ The Rays hit 16 HR in the ALCS, most in LCS history, ahead of the Astros (14) in 2004...they belted 13 HR from Games 2-5, most home runs over a four-game stretch in postseason history.
- ♦ B.J. Upton's 7 HR in the postseason remain 1 HR shy of the major league record for a single postseason (8, SF Barry Bonds in 2002, HOU Carlos Beltran in 2004 and TEX Nelson Cruz in 2011)...four of his 7 HR came in the ALCS, tying the LCS record at the time...he became the first player to hit 5 HR or more in the postseason after hitting fewer than 10 HR during the regular season.
- ♦ Evan Longoria's 6 HR in the postseason remains a record for a major league rookie in a single postseason (prev. 4, FLA Miguel Cabrera in 2003)...four of his 6 HR came in the ALCS, tying the LCS record at the time...all 4 HR in

RAYS OPPONENTS

In interleague play this season, the Rays play two home games (May 21-22) and two road games (Sep 17-18) against the reigning National League Champion Dodgers. Only once previously have they faced three-time Cy Young Award winner Clayton Kershaw, losing at Dodger Stadium on Aug 11, 2013. In April, the Rays will host four-time All-Star Nolan Arenado and the Rockies. In August, they visit San Diego to face the Padres and former Ray and 2013 AL Rookie of the Year Wil Myers.

REMEMBERING A TRAILBLAZER

Andrés Reiner passed away on Aug 3, 2016, at age 80. Hired by the organization in 2006, Andrés was instrumental in reorganizing how the Rays approached recruiting and signing players in Latin America. He played a major role in the building of the Rays academies in Venezuela and the Dominican Republic.

Andrés transformed how baseball was scouted in Venezuela when he opened the country's first baseball academy for the Astros in 1989. Though many are aware of the 25 young men from that program who reached the big leagues, including Johan Santana, Bobby Abreu and Carlos Guillén, fewer know about the managers and coaches in minor league baseball who were influenced by Andrés. The Rays have several staff members who were signed by Andrés as players, including Bowling Green Manager Reinaldo Ruiz, Hudson Valley coach Alejandro Freire, Princeton coach Germán Meléndez and minor league pitching coordinator Jorge Moncada.

Andrés pioneered the cultural transition programs in professional baseball. These are programs the Rays have established for young men signed in Latin America. The Rays stand with many others in tribute to a man who dedicated his life to growing our game and mentoring others to do the same.

ERIK WALKER COMMUNITY CHAMPION AWARD

The Erik Walker Community Champion Award annually recognizes one Rays minor league player who exemplifies teamwork, sportsmanship and community involvement, attributes exhibited by Rays minor league pitcher Erik Walker, who died tragically in an October 2006 canoeing accident. Walker was drafted by the Rays in June 2006 and had just completed his first professional season with the Hudson Valley Renegades when his life was cut short on Oct 26, just 11 days after his 23rd birthday. Each of the Rays six domestic minor league affiliates nominates a candidate for the award.

YOUTH PARTICIPATION RISING

Participation in baseball and softball is growing rapidly, which runs counter to the trend in sports overall. Over the last three years, baseball has seen a 49.1 pct. growth in casual participation, which is in direct correlation with the launch of MLB's PLAY BALL initiative, according to the Sports & Fitness Industry Association (SFIA) Topline Participation Report. Overall, baseball has gained nearly 2 million total participants in this timeframe. Also, according to SFIA, for the second consecutive year, baseball and softball combined to rank as the most participated team sports in the United States, with 25.1 million participants in 2017.

RAYS PLAYER DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS

MENTAL SKILLS TRAINING PROGRAM

LANCE GREEN

MENTAL SKILLS COORDINATOR

JAMES SCHWABACH

MENTAL SKILLS COORDINATOR

The Rays developed the Mental Skills Training Program (MSTP) to operate in conjunction with all other aspects of the Rays Player Development Program. While the primary focus of the program is with the players, it also serves all members of the organization, including administrative staff, coaches, managers and coordinators. Built upon the belief that what an athlete is thinking will influence his performance, the MSTP's goal is to develop a consistent, ideal mindset for performance. The basic mental skills of concentration, imagery, self-talk and self-mastery serve as the foundation of the program with complementary emphasis on other influences, such as cultural diversity, transitions from one level to the next, dealing with failure and adversity. When a player's performance level becomes inconsistent, his mental skills training provides him with a tool, something to "go to" in order to "fix it, forget it and move forward."

Dr. Lance Green enters his ninth year administering the program, and serves the Rays four full-season affiliates. In addition to his work with the Rays, Green is also an associate clinical professor of health and wellness at Tulane University.

James Schwabach enters his third season as mental skills coordinator, covering Rays short-season affiliates and extended spring training. He joined the Rays from Apex Performance Inc. in Charlotte, N.C. James received his bachelor's degree from Union College and master's from Ithaca College.

EMPLOYEE ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

VINCE LODATO

EAP DIRECTOR

A key component of developing successful baseball players is providing each individual with a web of support and education as he transitions into adulthood. The Rays believe that developing quality persons who are also professional athletes goes a long way in producing quality major league players. The Rays offer their players and staff the Employee Assistance Program (EAP), which is designed to provide support, education, consultation and information throughout all areas of the Rays baseball operations department, both in the United States and abroad in Latin America.

Spearheading the EAP's efforts is Vince Lodato, who has been integral to the program's continued success since he began working with the Rays in 2001. Lodato has led the EAP with a proactive approach. Education and skills development are viewed as equally critical to a player's growth, with an understanding in place that each player's needs are different at different points in their journeys. The program reaches all levels of the organization, from in-season rookie orientation, instructional leagues and extended spring training to major league and minor league spring training.

During education sessions, players are instructed on topics such as the Rays Player Code of Conduct, drug abuse, performance enhancing substances and stimulants. In addition, Lodato covers the subjects of leadership, teamwork and developing one's career both on and off the field.

There are three types of waiver requests: trade waivers, outright waivers and unconditional release waivers.

- [1] Trade waivers are necessary for any player assignment between major league clubs made from July 31 at 4 p.m. ET (better known as the “non-waiver trade deadline”) until 12 p.m. on the seventh day prior to the close of the championship season.
- [2] Outright waivers are irrevocable. They are required for a major league club to assign a player outright to a minor league club.
- [3] Unconditional release waivers are irrevocable and can be secured at any point during the year to release a player.

EXPANDING INTERNATIONAL OPERATIONS

GEORGE PAPPAS / TAMPA BAY RAYS

WHILE BASEBALL REMAINS AMERICA'S NATIONAL PASTIME, IT HAS TRULY BECOME A GLOBAL GAME. TODAY, MORE THAN ONE-FOURTH OF ALL MAJOR LEAGUERS WERE BORN OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES.

As a result, the Rays have expanded their international operations. While the organization spans the globe in the search for talent, the main focus is in the Dominican Republic and Venezuela, where Tampa Bay operates baseball academies.

In 2012, Carlos Rodríguez was named director, Latin America scouting and in late 2014 was promoted to director, international scouting. He supervises all of Tampa Bay's international scouting efforts with a strong focus in the Caribbean and South America, including the Dominican Republic and Venezuela. Steve Miller enters his sixth year as the Rays international crosschecker. In 2018, Brad Budzinski was hired to be an additional international crosschecker.

In 2006, shortly after Stuart Sternberg's ownership group took over, the Rays agreed to a partnership with the Dodgers where the two clubs would share Campo Las Palmas in the Dominican Republic, long considered the gold standard for Dominican facilities. Campo Las Palmas was home to the Rays baseball academy and a summer league team until early 2009 when the organization inaugurated a new academy located on property adjacent to Dodgers. The complex has two full diamonds and a half field, clubhouse, gym, covered batting cages, dining area, and living facilities, which can accommodate up to 92 players.

In 2007, the Rays opened their Venezuelan baseball academy in Guacara, Venezuela, 100 miles west of Caracas. In addition to baseball fields, the recently renovated Venezuelan academy includes a dining area and dormitory which can accommodate 56 players. Ronnie Blanco, former general manager of the Magallanes baseball club in the Venezuelan professional league, oversees the Rays Venezuelan baseball operations. In 2007, Tampa Bay players joined together with Reds prospects to form a co-op team in the Venezuelan Summer League (VSL). In 2008 the Rays had a complete team of their own, and in 2009 and 2011 Tampa Bay won the VSL championship. The VSL closed its operations after the 2015 season, prompting the Rays to add a second team in the Dominican Summer League in 2016. The Rays open the 2019 season as reigning DSL champions.

GEORGE PAPPAS / TAMPA BAY RAYS

The Rays also have scouting programs in Brazil, headed by Tiago Campos; Colombia, coordinated by Angel Contreras; Curacao, led by Chairon Isenia; and Panama, with Gustavo Zapata. Eddie Diaz leads scouting operations in Mexico, assisted by Jesus Valdez and Karla Espinoza, Mexico's first female baseball scout.

The Rays have also expanded scouting efforts in the Pacific Rim, Europe and Australia. Tateki "Bori" Uchibori, who served as an interpreter for former Tampa Bay infielder Akinori Iwamura, scouts for the Rays in Japan and Korea. In 2016, Joe Park was added to the Korean scouting staff. Keith Hsu covers Taiwan and John Gilmore enters his 11th year as an international consultant assisting in coverage all over the world.

In 2013, the Rays hired Jairo de la Rosa, a former player in the Rays organization, to be the Latin American cultural coordinator, a role which enhances the English and cultural adjustment program already in place throughout the organization. In 2015, Lenore Sutton, was hired as Florida education coordinator. Lenore has worked with the Rays organization since 2009 as the English instructor in Port Charlotte, Fla.

In 2018, the Rays continued a program to introduce U.S.-born minor league players to the organization's Latin American operations. Six players selected in the 2018 June Draft—Michael Berglund, Tanner Dodson, Tyler Frank, Shane McClanahan, Nick Schnell and Grant Witherspoon, along with Hudson Valley manager Blake Butera—spent four days at the Rays Dominican academy getting a firsthand look at the country that produces so much major league talent.

TROPICANA FIELD & MISC.

Tropicana Field has undergone extensive renovations to improve the fan experience, with the Rays investing more than $50 million in capital improvements since 2005 and more than $15 million in the last two years. This past offseason, LED lights were installed throughout the ballpark and concourses and the Left Field Ledge was created as a premium social gathering area featuring a full-service bar. In addition, the two primary entrances were redesigned to improve the flow of fans into the ballpark.

- ◆ The current capacity is 25,025. In advance of the 2019 season, seating at Tropicana Field was reconfigured to concentrate fans closer to the field by eliminating the upper deck level.
- ◆ Originally named the Florida Suncoast Dome, Tropicana Field's 1.1 million square feet include unique design features and fan amenities found nowhere else in the major leagues.
- ◆ The venue opened to the public on March 3, 1990, at a cost of $138 million. It became the ThunderDome in 1993 with the arrival of the area's National Hockey League expansion franchise, the Tampa Bay Lightning. It was renamed Tropicana Field on Oct 4, 1996, in accordance with a naming rights agreement between the Rays and Bradenton's Tropicana Dole Beverages North America.
- ◆ Since 2005, the Rays have invested an estimated $50 million into capital improvements at Tropicana Field, including more than $15 million in the last two years. The team's commitment to a first-rate fan experience led to a series of improvements prior to the 2019 season. The tarped seats in left field were replaced by the Left Field Ledge, a premium social gathering area featuring a full-service bar, ledge tables, patio boxes and seated drink rails. The two primary entrances were also redesigned to improve the flow of fans into the ballpark. In addition, the existing field lights were replaced with energy-efficient LED lights, enhancing on-field playability and in-game entertainment.
- ◆ In 2018, the Rays partnered with Levy to overhaul the venue's food, beverage and retail experience. Modernized "food halls" were created in the first and third base concourses, while Levy's retail division, Rank + Rally, moved into a renovated Tropicana Field Team Store.
- ◆ Knotless safety nets were installed and extended to the ends of both dugouts. The green, knotless net provides enhanced visibility for fans seated behind it, replacing the traditional black, knotted nets that previously extended to the home plate end of each dugout.
- ◆ Between 2013-14, the Rays added 360-degree pedestrian circulation around the lower seating bowl. The improved circulation provides easier access to and from ballpark gates, concessions and activity areas throughout the facility.
- ◆ Over 2006-07, the Rays invested more than $18 million toward improvements to Tropicana Field, including the creation of the Rays Club, the installation of new video boards and a sound system and the addition of the Ted Williams Museum and Hitters Hall of Fame located in Center Field Street.

- Tropicana Field is also the world's only professional sports facility that features live rays. The Rays Touch Tank opened in 2006, and is located just behind the right-center field wall. Through a unique partnership with The Florida Aquarium, there are over 20 cownose rays that fans can touch throughout the game. The 10,000-gallon tank is sponsored by Visit St. Pete/Clearwater and FloridaBeaches.com, and is one of the 10 largest in the United States.
- Tropicana Field and Toronto's Rogers Centre both feature an artificial surface and all-dirt base paths. Only four other artificial turf ballparks have ever featured all-dirt base paths: Houston's Astrodome (1966-71), San Francisco's Candlestick Park (1971), Pittsburgh's Three Rivers Stadium (1970-72) and St. Louis' Busch Stadium (1970-76).
- The Rays installed new Shaw Sports Turf for the 2019 season, the seventh surface in 22 seasons. They began play in 1998 on AstroTurf, went to a FieldTurf surface in 2000 and FieldTurf's improved product in 2007. In 2011, AstroTurf installed Game Day Grass 3D-60 H. The first of three Shaw Sports Turf surfaces was installed for the 2017 season.
- Tropicana Field features the world's largest cable-supported domed roof following the demolition of the Georgia Dome in 2017. It's made of six acres of translucent, Teflon-coated fiberglass and it virtually supports itself with 180 miles of cables connected by struts. Opposing forces of tension and compression keep the roof in an arc. Tropicana Field's roof is slanted at a 6.5-degree angle, dropping from 225 feet above second base to 85 feet at the center field wall. The slanted roof reduced the overall construction costs and decreased the volume of air under the dome by 16.8 million cubic feet. Accordingly, that reduced the amount of air that requires climate control treatment. It is built to withstand winds of up to 115 miles per hour.
- Though originally built for baseball, there have been 14 other sports and competitive events held there. These include hockey, basketball, football, sprint car racing, gymnastics, soccer, tennis, weightlifting, table tennis, karate, motorcycle racing, equestrian events, track and figure skating.
- In addition to the 2008 World Series, the facility was also home to the 1999 NCAA Basketball Final Four featuring Duke, Ohio State, Michigan State and eventual-champion Connecticut. The largest crowd to date—47,150—appeared at the Aug 11, 1990 concert featuring New Kids on the Block. It is currently home to college football's East-West Shrine Game.
